Friday, May 3

9:30-9:45 am  COFFEE AND ROLLS
9:45-10:00 am  Welcome and Introduction
Paula Findlen (Stanford University) and Alex Statman (The Huntington Library)

10:00-12:00 pm  SESSION 1: CONSTRUCTING WORLDS
Chair: Rowan Dorin (Stanford University)
Frederic Clark (University of Southern California)
“Historia Universalis: An Ancient Genre and Its Early Modern Transformations”
Amber Brian (University of Iowa)
“Mestizo Translators: The Dislocation of Native Knowledge and the Histories of Inca Garcilaso de la Vega and Fernando de Alva Ixtlilxochitl”
Caroline Winterer (Stanford University)
“The End of the Worlds (Old and New, That Is): How Geology Rewrote Global History, c. 1830”

12:00-1:30 pm  LUNCH

1:30-3:30 pm  SESSION 2: GLOBAL HISTORIANS ON A CONNECTED WORLD
Chair: Sixiang Wang (Stanford University)
Habtamu Tegegne (Rutgers University)
“Historiographical Revolution of Sixteenth-and Seventeenth-Century Ethiopia”
Qiong Zhang (Wake Forest University)
“Whose Global History?: Defining the Human Community in Early Modern Chinese Ethnography and World Geography”
Duygu Yildirim (Stanford University)
“Collecting, Copying, Revising: Writing Global Histories in the Seventeenth Century Constantinople”

3:30-4:00 pm  COFFEE BREAK

4:00-5:15 pm  SESSION 3: GLOBAL TRAVEL AND ETHNOGRAPHY
Chair: Luca Scholz (Stanford University)
Ines G. Županov (Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique, Paris)
“Accidental “Global” Historians: Jesuit and Discalced Carmelite Missionaries in India (16th -18th century)”

Nancy Kollmann (Stanford University)
“Adam Olearius as Classical Humanist and Scientific Ethnographer”

Saturday, May 4

9:30-9:45 am          COFFEE AND ROLLS
10:00-12:00 pm        SESSION 4: EUROPE’S ENCOUNTER WITH GLOBAL HISTORY
Chair: Andrei Pesic (Stanford University)

Alexandria Brown-Hedjazi (Stanford University)
“The Perspective Glass: Safavids on the Elizabethan Stage”

Alex Statman (The Huntington Library)
“Enlightenment World History Between France and China”

Alexander Bevilacqua (Williams College)
“Historical Scholarship in the French Mediterranean from Ancien Régime to Empire”

12:00-1:30 pm          LUNCH

1:30-3:00 pm          SESSION 5: GLOBAL HISTORIES OF SLAVERY
Chair: J’Nese Williams (Stanford University)

Anna More (Universidade de Brasilia)
“Writing History on the Portuguese Slaving Frontier: Oliveira de Cadornega’s 1680 História Geral das Guerras Angolanas”

Wendy Belcher (Princeton University)
“Enslaving Kings Freeing Slaves: Representations of Slavery in Gǝәz Royal Chronicles from Eighteenth-Century Abyssinia”

3:30-4:00 pm          COFFEE BREAK

4:00-5:00 pm          ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION
Chair: Paula Findlen (Stanford University)
Kären Wigen (Stanford University)
John-Paul Ghobrial (Oxford University)
Anthony Pagden (UCLA)

We gratefully acknowledge the sponsorship of the Stanford History Department, Suppes Center for the History and Philosophy of Science, Stanford Humanities Center, Abbasi Center, Center for African Studies, Center for East Asian Studies, Center for Latin American Studies, Center for Russian, Eastern European, and Eurasian Studies, Europe Center, and Stanford Global Studies