Western Collegiate Taekwondo Council

Collegiate Taekwondo Community,

The Western Collegiate Taekwondo Council invites you to participate in the 2002 Western Collegiate Taekwondo Championship to be held at Stanford University on Saturday, December 7th, 2002.

The Western Collegiate Taekwondo Council is a non-profit organization dedicated to the development of American collegiate taekwondo. The current council members are: Jun Yoon from Las Positas College, Robert Zambetti from California State University, Hayward and Tim Ghormley from Stanford University.

The goals of the Council are to provide low cost, quality events that are run fairly by professional and dedicated individuals. Exposing American collegiate competitors to the proper conditions in tournament play is to give them the experience that players all over the world have already received.

This event will use Olympic weight divisions and strict procedures for participation. Please read the entry form and accompanying information very carefully; everyone from the coach to the competitors must take responsibility to complete and understand all requirements. This is the business of education and collegiate athletes must be able to comprehend and execute the proper actions.

It is very important that all competitors understand that they will be held to the weight division entered on the entry form. At the "weigh-ins", if the competitor does not make the weight division entered on the entry form he or she will be disqualified from the event and will not be given a refund of the entry fee.

This competition will be run under the "match numbering system" and the divisions will be finalized before the day of the event. Players will not be permitted to move to other divisions if they do not make weight. It is essential, therefore, that the athletes fill out the entry form accurately.

Individuals placing in the top three of their division will receive awards. In addition, there will be team awards. The top three colleges or universities with the most winners in the black belt divisions and those in the colored belt divisions will receive team awards. It is beneficial for any program to be able to bring results back to their institutions for prestige and publicity on campus. We look forward to your participation.
