Dear _____

Per your request, I would like to make available to you the Biological Materials described below:

Stanford Registry Number	Laboratory Designation	Description
SBR-421	LZRS-pBMN-lacZ	EBV/retroviral vector containing orip and EBNA-1 elements, the gene unit PGK-1/Puromycin resistance and a retrovirus expressing the LacZ gene.

These Biological Materials are provided for non-clinical, non-commercial research purposes. You may not distribute the Biological Materials including any progeny and any genetically engineered modification which is substantially based on and incorporates an essential element of the Biological Materials to any other individual or entity without my prior consent. These cells may only be used for generation of clonal retrovirus or full-length cDNA libraries. The use of these lines for any other library generation protocols is strictly prohibited.

Because the Biological Materials are experimental in nature, please note that they are provided without any warranties and that Stanford University or its employees have no liability in connection with their use.

If you agree with the above, please sign and return a copy of this letter to me for our laboratory records.

Regards,

Garry P. Nolan
