LING 156 Final Practice Exam

Includes some relevant questions from the Midterm Practice Exam & Midterm Exam

NOTE: This practice exam is extra long!!
The actual structure of the Final Exam will be:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Type</th>
<th>Number</th>
<th>Percentage of Total Grade</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Multiple Choice questions</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>20%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>True/False questions</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>20%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Short Answer questions</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>20%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Short Essay questions</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>40%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Part I: Multiple Choice (only 10 questions of this type on the Final Exam, at 2pts each)

1. /t/-release indirectly indexing 'gay diva' depends on:
   a. homophobia
   b. context
   c. agency
   d. face

2. The most active participants in creating the “Father Knows Best” dinnertime dynamic according to Ochs & Taylor’s 1995 analysis were:
   a. the fathers
   b. the mothers
   c. the children
   d. the siblings

3. A single lecture is an example of a:
   a. speech situation
   b. speech activity
   c. speech event
   d. speech act

4. Your communicative competence is constrained by your:
   a. meaning-making rights
   b. iconicity
   c. prediscursivity
   d. naturalization
5. What is the discursive process that is challenged by an analysis of masculinity that considers socioeconomic class or sexuality?

a. indexicality
b. discourse
c. erasure
d. agency
e. all of the above

6. The linguistic style known as Japanese Women’s Language has become a commodified part of Japan’s:

a. Samurai Class language
b. post-modern rebellion
c. national identity
d. young popular culture

7. A study of ‘G-dropping,’ as in runnin’ vs. running, is an example of:

a. phonetic/phonological variation
b. semantic change-in-progress
c. critical discourse analysis
d. lexical/syntactic variation

8. Mendoza-Denton argues that longer silences after Clarence Thomas’ statements than Anita Hill’s statements:

a. rendered Thomas powerless
b. gave weight and sympathy to Thomas
c. rendered Thomas silent
d. cast doubt on Thomas’ argument

9. The idea of the Linguistic Market comes from:

a. Robin Lakoff
b. Sally McConnell-Ginet
c. Rob Podesva
d. Pierre Bourdieu

10. The vocal pitch level of a person is determined by:

a. vocal tract length
b. gender socialization
c. both of the above
d. neither of the above
11. The “Father Knows Best” dynamic is an example of:
   a. radical feminism
   b. variation
   c. patriarchy
   d. legibility

12. Which is evidence that sexual dimorphism is a social construct:
   a. the shift in the connotations of the terms homosexual and gay
   b. preferences by little boys for toy trucks
   c. perceiving Uptalk differently depending on the gender of the speaker
   d. categories of sexual behavior in ancient Rome

13. A ‘global’ linguistic market is usually associated with:
   a. working-class speech
   b. vernacular speech
   c. standard speech
   d. masculine speech

14. Which one could best be described as a community of practice?
   a. Students who go to Palo Alto High School
   b. A group of 9th graders who enjoy school-oriented activities
   c. People who live in Palo Alto
   d. Stanford students
   e. People who speak a Southern dialect of English

15. Keisling argues that the word dude, when used by members of a college fraternity, can:
   a. mitigate negative face threats
   b. be interpreted as an insult
   c. introduce performative speech acts
   d. index homosexual orientation

16. Which is not a potential sociolinguistic variable:
   a. the word hella vs. the word mad
   b. she’s about 6 feet tall vs. she’s around to 6 feet tall
   c. creaky voice vs. modal voice
   d. fronted /a/ vs. backed /a/
   e. give me the cup vs. give the cup to me
   f. I be studying vs. I am studying
17. Podesva’s (2007) analysis of falsetto argues that falsetto indirectly indexes:

a. politeness & a ‘queen’ identity
b. expressiveness & a ‘queen’ identity
c. politeness & a ‘diva’ persona
d. expressiveness & a ‘diva’ persona

18. The phone sex workers Kira Hall (1995) interviewed were:

a. men and women who performed white voices
b. men and women who performed voices of various ethnicities
c. only women, performing white voices
d. only women, performing voices of various ethnicities

19. Proposing a theory of multiple masculinities helps counteract which semiotic process:

a. discursivity
b. homophobia
c. performance
d. erasure

20. What aspect of performance most provides the opportunity for speakers to create positive social change?

a. iterability
b. iconicization
c. pejoration
d. indexicality

Part II: True/False (only 10 questions of this type on the Final Exam, at 2pts each)

   T / F

2. The deictics here and there are examples of direct indexicality.

   T / F

3. Gossip can be distinguished from shop talk based purely on linguistic criteria.

   T / F
4. Whether you’re talking to a woman or a man may influence how you perceive that speaker’s consonants.
   T / F

   T / F

   T / F

7. Separating men's and women's sports is an example of institutional homophobia.
   T / F

8. Queer Theory argues that pornography enforces the gender binary.
   T / F

9. Telling someone they have toilet paper stuck to their shoe threatens a person’s positive face.
   T / F

10. Behavior has been shown to alter hormone levels and other brain chemistry.
    T / F

11. Babies with intersex genitalia are more common in some societies than others.
    T / F

12. People who identify as homosexual are not part of the heterosexual market.
    T / F

13. Many studies have found that men use more non-standard linguistic variables than women do.
    T / F

14. The relationship between linguistic form and social meaning is usually direct.
    T / F
15. Fraternity members’ use of dude may be considered homosocial behavior.
   T / F

16. Small town cultures always orient more toward negative face than positive face.
   T / F

   T / F

18. Lera Boroditsky argues that grammatical gender may be stored in our minds in connection to social gender.
   T / F

   T / F

20. Performative speech acts are statements that accomplish actions.
   T / F

Part III: Short Answer (only 10 questions of this type on the Final Exam, at 2pts each)

1. In the United States, technical masculinity is associated with _______ class, whereas physical masculinity is associated with _______ class.
   _______________________________; _______________________________

2. Give an example of an Imagined Community:
   __________________________________________________________

3. Give an example of a Speech Activity and its parallel Speech Event:
   __________________________________________________________

4. Name one social institution other than school or work where gender is constructed.
   __________________________________________________________
5. The Whorfian Hypothesis is also called the idea of Linguistic ____:

6. One social category that interacts with gender and sexuality is race or ethnicity. Name another social category that interacts with gender and sexuality:

7. Hlonipa particularly impacted Khoi-San women marrying ____ men:

8. In Eckert's analysis, the gender order shifts as kids approach adolescence, going from ________ to ________.

___________________________ ; __________________________

9. Give one example of a word related to gender or sexuality that has undergone perjoration:

10. The word seminal is an example of a(n) _______ metaphor, at least among most speakers of English:

11. Synthetic Sisterhood is an example of a(n) _______ community:

12. Give an example of heteronormativity in television:

13. “I now pronounce you husband and wife,” is a _______ Speech Act:

14. Meaning making rights depends on the ability to:
15. The process of coming to believe that ideologies are common sense is called: ____________________________________________

16. Name one specific critique against Lakoff 1972:
_______________________________________________________

17. Name one strategy that was used by the producer of the magazine Jackie to construct the synthetic sisterhood:
_______________________________________________________

18. Hijras (as in the movie, Bombay Eunuch) refer to themselves in the present by using _______ pronouns.
_______________________________________________________

19. What is the language of societal power in the global linguistic market?
_______________________________________________________

20. The _______ hypothesis refers to a thinking the ability to acquire language is biologically linked to age. The hypothesis claims that there is an ideal time to acquire language in a linguistically rich environment, after which language acquisition is no longer possible due to changes in the brain.
_______________________________________________________

Part IV: Short Essay

1. Gender and sexual orientation are socially constructed in overlapping ways. Show how this is the case using the examples of American cross-dressers and feminists.

2. What is the difference between a Community of Practice and an Imagined Community? Support with examples.

3. Argue for the position that using food/drink metaphors to refer to women constructs the gender order.

4. What do we mean by the statement “gender and sexuality are not prediscursive”?

5. Why should you be skeptical of a research study that argues to have proven that men interrupt women more than women interrupt men? What would you ask that researcher?
6. How does Keisling 2004 suggest that the use of “dude” may be connected to either hegemonic masculinity or homophobia, in the community he analyzed?

7. How do medicine and science shift sexuality from behaviors to identities?

8. “Drawing category boundaries is often an exercise of social power.” Discuss, using examples from Eckert & McConnell-Ginet, Chapter 7.

9. How do the performances of African American Drag Queens support a theory like LePage & Tabouret-Keller’s “Acts of Identity,” according to Barrett (1999)?

11. Imagine that you have a friend who does not understand the problem of gender stereotyping language because there clearly is a difference between how men and women talk. How would you respond to your friend?

12. Give an example of how heterosexuality is constructed in magazine advertisements.

13. How are bathroom choice, and the higher frequency of urinary tract infections in some populations, related to the construction of gender?

14. How are ritual “closings,” or conversational endings, evidence that politeness norms are part of our communicative competence?

15. How was the practice of Hlonipa important in structuring the Zulu language?

16. What was the role of novels in the construction of Japanese Women’s Language?

17. Use the example of ‘Uptalk’ (or ‘HRT’) to describe how speech is multifunctional.

18. Give an example of study in which the use of a variable (or variables) is linked to constructing one's identity, and explain it in detail (make sure you use the following terms in your discussion: local categories, variables, identities, and social meanings)

19. Sociolinguistics has its roots in the study of dialect differences, in which geography places a major role. Some researchers believe that there are mountain ranges between different social categories, too: between Whites and Blacks, for example. How useful is this notion in the study of language and gender?

20. This course has focused on the social construction of gender. How does this square with anatomical, chemical, and functional differences that neuroscientists are finding when comparing the brains of men and women?