

The rules of the game

- The class will split into two teams
- Each round, each team can ask one yes/no question
- The question must be about the phenotypes of the suspects
- The response to the question is only given to the team that asks it

The rules of the game

- If you think you figured out who it is...
 - You may submit a guess (accompanied by your logic) instead of a question
- BUT each team only gets three guesses
