

Dr. Detlef van Vuuren

Detlef van Vuuren is a professor in Integrated Assessment of Global Environmental Change at Utrecht University and project leader at PBL Netherlands Environmental Assessment Agency. His research concentrates on response strategies to global environmental problems using integrated assessment models and other tools. Detlef van Vuuren had a coordinating role in the development of the scenarios now used in the IPCC's assessments and participated as (coordinating) lead author in many international assessments. Detlef van Vuuren is member of the Royal Academy of Sciences and the Arts in the Netherlands.