

Baidar Bakht

Baidar Bakht is a bridge engineer who retired about twenty years ago from the Ministry of Transportation of Ontario, Canada, as Principal Research Engineer. Currently, he is Adjunct Professor at the University of Manitoba in Winnipeg, Canada. He has written extensively on various aspects of bridge engineering, his main interests being bridge analysis, soil-steel bridges and evaluation of bridges with the help of field testing. For his services in bridge engineering and Urdu literature, the Government of Canada has bestowed on him its highest civilian honour, the Order of Canada.