Request for Information on Use of ICPSR Resources: To provide funding agencies with essential information about use of archival resources and to facilitate the exchange of information about ICPSR participants' research activities, users of ICPSR data are requested to send to ICPSR bibliographic citations for each completed manuscript or thesis abstract. Visit the ICPSR Web site for more information on submitting citations.

Data Disclaimer: The original collector of the data, ICPSR, and the relevant funding agency bear no responsibility for uses of this collection or for interpretations or inferences based upon such uses.

Responsible Use Statement: In preparing data for public release, ICPSR performs a number of procedures to ensure that the identity of research subjects cannot be disclosed. Any intentional identification or disclosure of a person or establishment violates the assurances of confidentiality given to the providers of the information. Therefore, users of data obtained from the ICPSR archive and/or any of its special topic archives agree:

- To use these datasets solely for statistical analysis and reporting of aggregated information, and not for investigation of specific individuals or organizations, except when identification is authorized in writing by ICPSR
- To make no use of the identity of any person or establishment discovered inadvertently, and to advise ICPSR of any such discovery
- To produce no links among ICPSR datasets or among ICPSR data and other datasets that could identify individuals or organizations

Redistribution: ICPSR data may not be redistributed or sold to other individuals, institutions, or organizations without the written agreement of ICPSR.

Title: National Survey of Youth, 1967

ICPSR Study Number: 3509

Summary: This study contains data that measure the frequency and seriousness of delinquent activities among American youths aged 13-16 in 1967. Respondents were asked to indicate which of 16 offenses they had committed in the previous three years and were then asked detailed follow-up questions about the circumstances of each offense that they reported. Respondents' reports of delinquency were then checked against the official delinquency records. Respondents were also asked about their attitudes toward school, school grades, peer group activities, job aspirations, dating habits, and self-perception. Also elicited was information about respondents' family characteristics, such as relationship with their parents, parents' education, job history, and family size. Demographic variables specify sex, date of birth, race, education, nationality, and religion. The study contains two data files. The individual respondent is the unit of analysis in the Main File (Part 1), and the offense is the unit of analysis in the Offenses File (Part 2).

Sample: A total of 847 American youths in 1967.

Date of Collection: 1967

Data Collection Notes: (1) Potential users of the National Survey of Youth datasets are advised to contact the original principal investigator, Dr. Martin Gold of the Institute for Social Research, University of Michigan, about their intended uses of the data. (2) The codebook is provided by ICPSR as a Portable Document Format (PDF) file. The PDF file format was developed by Adobe Systems Incorporated and can be accessed using PDF reader software, such as the Adobe Acrobat Reader. Information on how to obtain a copy of the Acrobat Reader is provided on the ICPSR Web site.

Data Source: personal interviews

Extent of Collection: 2 data files + machine-readable documentation (PDF) + SAS data definition statements + SPSS data definition statements

Extent of Processing: CDBK.ICPSR/ DDEF.ICPSR/ REFORM.DATA/ REFORM.DOC

Data Format: Logical Record Length with SAS and SPSS data definition dtatements

Introduction

This study contains data that measure the frequency and seriousness of delinquent activities among American youths aged 13-16 in 1967. Respondents were asked to indicate which of 16 offenses they had committed in the previous three years and were then asked detailed follow-up questions about the circumstances of each offense that they reported. Respondents' reports of delinquency were then checked against the official delinquency records. Respondents were also asked about their attitudes toward school, school grades, peer group activities, job aspirations, dating habits, and self-perception. Also elicited was information about respondents' family characteristics, such as relationship with their parents, parents' education, job history, and family size. Demographic variables specify sex, date of birth, race, education, nationality, and religion. The study contains two data files. The individual respondent is the unit of analysis in the Main File (Part 1), and the offense is the unit of analysis in the Offenses File (Part 2).

Acknowledgement of Assistance

All manuscripts utilizing data made available through the Consortium should acknowledge that fact as well as identify the original collector of the data. The ICPSR council urges all users of ICPSR data facilities to follow some adaptation of this statement with the parentheses indicating items to be filled in appropriately or deleted by the individual user. The data (and tabulations) utilized in this (publication) were made available (in part) by the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research. The data for the 1967 National Survey of Youth were originally collected by Martin Gold and Jay R. Williams. Neither the original collectors of the data nor the Consortium bear any responsibility for the analyses or interpretations presented here.

In order to provide funding agencies with essential information about the use of archival resources, and to facilitate the exchange of information about ICPSR participants' research activities, each user of the ICPSR data facilities is expected to send two copies of each completed manuscript or thesis abstract to the Consortium. Please indicate in the cover letter which data were used.

STUDY DESCRIPTION

847 interviews were collected in the spring of 1967 in a study designed to measure the frequency and seriousness of delinquent activity, detected or undetected, among a representative sample of American boys and girls 13 to 16 years old. The interview elicited information about the teenagers' family characteristics, including parents' education, job history, and family size, attitudes toward school, school grade, peer group activities and job aspirations. Respondents were asked to indicate which of sixteen offenses they had committed in the previous three years and then detailed questions about the circumstances of each offense they reported. The teenagers' reports of delinquency were checked against official delinquency records.

The investigator requests that a senior researcher be the official recipient of the data and take full responsibility for any current or subsequent analyses of the data. He requests also that a description of intended use of the data be submitted to him for review when ordering the data. Therefore, please include this information when requesting the dataset. The monitoring function of the senior researchers involves providing the principal investigator with copies of reports, dissertations, articles, etc. which are based on this data set once the data have been supplied.

9. Obedience and respect for authority are the most important virtues children should learn.
10. No weakness or difficulty can hold us back if we have enough will power.
11. Science has its place, but there are many important things that can never possibly be understood by the human mind.
12. Human nature being what it is, there will always be war and conflict.
13. Every person should have complete faith in some supernatural power whose decisions he obeys without question.
14. When a person has a problem or worry, it is best for him not to think about it but keep busy with more cheerful things.
15. A person who has bad manners, habits, and breeding can hardly expect to get along with decent people.
16. What the youth needs most is strict discipline, rugged determination, and the will to work and fight for family and country.
17. Some people are born with an urge to jump from high places.
18. Nowadays when so many different kinds of people move around and mix together so much, a person has to protect himself especially carefully against catching an infection or disease from them.
19. An insult to our honor should always be punished.
20. Young people sometimes get rebellious ideas, but as they grow up they ought to get over them and settle down.
21. It is best to use some prewar authorities in Germany to keep order and prevent chaos.
22. What this country needs most, more than laws and political programs, is a few courageous, tireless, devoted leaders in whom the people can put their faith.
23. Sex crimes, such as rape and attacks on children, deserve more than mere imprisonment; such criminals ought to be publicly whipped or worse.

24. People can be divided into two distinct classes: the weak and the strong.
25. There is hardly anything lower than a person who does not feel a great love, gratitude, and respect for his parents.
26. Some day it will probably be shown that astrology can explain a lot of things.
27. Nowadays more and more people are prying into matters that should remain personal and private.
28. Wars and social troubles may someday be ended by an earthquake or flood that will destroy the whole world.
29. Most of our social problems would be solved if we could somehow get rid of the immoral, crooked, and feebleminded people.
30. The wild sex life of the old Greeks and Romans was tame compared to some of the goings-on in this country, even in places where people might least expect it.
31. If people would talk less and work more, everybody would be better off.
32. Most people don't realize how much our lives are controlled by plots hatched in secret places.
33. Homosexuals are hardly better than criminals and ought to be severely punished.
34. The businessman and the manufacturer are much more important to society than the artist and the professor.
35. No sane, normal, decent person could ever think of hurting a close friend or relative.
36. Familiarity breeds contempt.
37. Nobody ever learned anything really important except through suffering.
