Summary: To examine the causes of marital instability throughout the life course, six waves of data were collected between 1980 and 2000 from married individuals who were between the ages of 18 and 55 in 1980. Information collected in 1980 (Wave I) focused on the effects of wives' participation in the labor force on marriage and marital instability. Measures predicting marital instability and divorce and assessing marital quality were developed. Variables include information on earnings, commitment to work, hours worked, and occupational status. The focus of Wave II, conducted in 1983, was to link changes in factors such as economic resources, wife's employment, presence of children, marital satisfaction, life goals, and health to actions intended to dissolve a marriage, such as divorce and permanent separation. Information on adjustment to marital dissolution, relationship with in-laws, size of home, parents' employment, use of free time, club membership, child-care arrangements, and responsibility for chores was gathered. Wave III, collected in 1988, further examined the impact of changes in employment, economics, and health on marital relationships. Questions were asked about divorce and remarriage, investment of energy and resource use in the care of aging parents and dependent offspring, asset value, awareness of aging, mental health issues, and history of disease. In 1992, Wave IV data were collected to look at changes in employment, economics, and health. Questions were asked about retirement issues, family structure, and the impact of caring for aging parents while at the same time caring for dependent offspring. Data were also collected in 1992 and 1994 from adult offspring who were living in the household in 1980 and had reached age 19 by 1992, thus providing parallel measures with their parents regarding the quality of parent-child relationships, attitudes, and support along with exploring the impact of childhood experiences on the transition to adult life. In 1997, the fifth wave was collected and interviews were conducted with a second sample of adult offspring (N=202) along with second interviews of offspring selected in 1992 (N=606). Wave V also examined the relationship between marital quality and stability and how it relates to changes in marital quality later in life. In 2000, Wave VI data were collected. Included with the adult panel was a panel obtained from the offspring who participated in 1992 or 1997, a replicate of the original cross-section study completed in 1980 (comprised of currently married persons between the ages of 19 and 55), along with a comparison sample made up of persons who were married in 1980 and were between 39 and 75 years old. The investigators examined whether there were changes in marital quality between 1980 and 2000, identified factors that might have accounted for these changes, and sought to determine their impact on the health and longevity of older persons. New questions included in Wave VI covered whether the respondent thought he/she had an organized lifestyle, alcohol and tobacco use, health problems, physical limitations, and mattering (the level of concern expressed for and received from spouse). Among the variables included in all six waves are age, sex, educational attainment, marital status and history, attitude toward divorce, number of children, religious affiliation, and income level.

Universe: All intact marriages in the continental United States with partners between the ages of 18 and 55 in 1980 and living in households with telephones.

Sample: National probability sample. The sample was selected using a random-digit dialing cluster technique. Data were weighted to adjust for underrepresentation in metropolitan areas.

Date of Collection: fall 1980, fall 1983, spring 1988, 1992, 1994, 1997, 2000

Data Collection Notes: (1) Because of additional cleaning of the data performed by the principal investigator, this data collection supersedes earlier versions (ICPSR 9199, ICPSR 9200, ICPSR 9747, and ICPSR 2163). (2) In processing this collection, ICPSR did not change missing data codes defined by the principal investigators, at their request, and SAS and SPSS system missing data values were assigned numeric codes for each variable. Also, an unmarried case in Wave I was deleted at the principal investigators' request. (3) The codebooks are provided by the principal investigator as Portable Document Format (PDF) files. The PDF file format was developed by Adobe Systems Incorporated and can be accessed using PDF under software, such as the Adobe Acrobat Reader. Information on how to obtain a copy of the Acrobat Reader is provided on the ICPSR Web site.

PREFACE

The purpose of this report is to provide information on the technical aspects of the fifth (1997) wave of interviews with a national sample of persons who were married in 1980 and interviewed in 1980, 1983, 1988, and 1992. The fifth wave differs from the earlier waves by virtue of the fact that a second sample of adult offspring of the respondents were interviewed. Offspring selected in 1992 were also interviewed a second time in 1997. Entitled "Marital Instability Over the Life Course 1980-1993", data and methodology reports on the first four waves are available from Sociometrics Corporation, 170 State Street, Suite 260, Los Altos, CA 94022—2812 (415) 949—3282 or from the Inter-University Consortium for Political and Social Research, P.O. Box 1248, Ann Arbor, MI 48106.

The fifth wave was funded, in part, by grant number 2 ROl AG04146-10A2 from the National Institute on Aging. The theoretical framework guiding the fifth wave of investigation may be found in the proposal in Appendix A. The purpose of the fifth wave was to continue work on the relationship between life course and marital instability. Central issues to be investigated with the fifth wave are re-examinations of the way marital instability is related to (1) wife's employment, income, and joint assets, (2) changes in physical health and perception of aging, (3) changes in mental health, (4) social integration, and (5) resistance to change and life satisfaction, (6) dual care responsibilities, (7) locus of control, and (8) shifts in balance of power and division of labor related to retirement. A new topic to be investigated concerns the way in which marital quality and stability are related to changes in marital quality later in life.

Interviewing an additional sample of offspring who resided with their parents in 1980 will enable us to re-examine how changes in family structure and process affect children's transition to adulthood, and the way in which successful or problematic transition of offspring to independence affects parental well-being. Further, the effects of family of origin characteristics on offspring as well as the effects of offspring transitions on parent/child relations were added to the offspring investigation. The remainder of the report describes the following activities in detail: tracking procedures, selecting the 1997 offspring, interview schedule construction and pretest, response rates, representativeness of the 1997 interview, and management of the study.

RESEARCH PROCEDURES

Tracking Members of the Panel. To maintain the integrity of the panel, respondents were tracked in the fall of 1993 and again in the fall of 1994. Letters were sent to all respondents giving them a progress report on the study (see Appendix C). The letters were sent with "Address Correction Requested" so that study staff were informed about those individuals who had changed addresses or for whom the letter could not be delivered. Those individuals were tracked and lists of addresses and phone numbers updated.

Offspring of the panel respondents who were interviewed in 1992 were also tracked in the fall of 1993 and 1994. Offspring respondents were sent a letter in 1995 updating them on the study as well as a short survey asking about changes in their work/family life since 1992. A follow-up postcard was sent to those respondents who had not yet returned the short survey (see Appendix C).

Selecting Offspring to be Interviewed. Respondents who were re-interviewed in 1997 who had offspring 19 years of age or older who resided in the household in 1980, and who did not have offspring who were interviewed in 1992, were asked to give us the name and phone number of a child. In cases where there was more than one eligible child, a random procedure was used to select the child to be included in the study. In households with two eligible children, the name, address and phone number of the second offspring was also obtained. In households with three or more eligible children, a second child was selected at random and the name, address, and phone number requested. We interviewed the second child when it was not possible to obtain an interview with the first. We felt it was better to obtain information on one child than none. We obtained phone numbers on 250 first selected and 119 second selected offspring. Three percent of the interviews are with offspring other than the first selected individual.

Interview Construction and Pre-test. Most of the scaled individual items used in 1992 were used again in 1997. These items included changes in household composition and fertility, changes in marital situation, marital quality measures, household division of labor, employment experience, residential mobility, attitudes towards divorce, factors judged to keep the marriage together, extent to which individuals' spouse met his/her expectations, mental/physical health, adjustment among the divorced and permanently separated, locus of control and items assessing people's evaluation of the timing of their retirement (See Appendix D).

The offspring interview schedules contained many of the items found on the adult schedule. In addition, we assessed the quality of dating and cohabitation relationships. Scales were devised to assess parental support and control and the quality of life in the household while they were growing up. We obtained objective as well as subjective information on quality of parent/child relations as well as on parental divorce and parental separation and its aftermath (See Appendices E and F).

The interviews were pretested in the fall of 1996 and interviewing began in January 1997. Computer aided interviewing was used in the fifth wave as it was in the fourth. Interviewing manuals for both the adult and offspring interviews are found in Appendix G.

Obtaining the Fifth Interview. Every effort was made to re-interview the respondent and offspring. Spanish-speaking interviewers were available to interview Hispanic individuals. Respondents who had relocated outside the United States were called or sent the interview schedule by mail. Respondents who could not be reached because the phone was no longer in service or because someone else had been assigned the number were turned over to trackers. The personal references of respondents who we were unable to track by mail or by telephone were contacted for forwarding addresses or new telephone numbers. People who initially refused to be re-interviewed were called back by another interviewer. All reluctant respondents and respondents who failed to return mail surveys were offered $30.00 to complete the interview schedule via telephone. Respondents who did not want to participate were sent a letter thanking them for their participation in the study over the last 17 years along with a short mail survey. These respondents were told they would not be contacted again, but that it would be appreciated if they would complete the mail survey send it (See Appendix C).

Response Rate Estimates. Of the 1,193 people who were interviewed in 1992, we succeeded in re-interviewing 1,077 (90.3%) of the adults. Table 1 contains the disposition of interviews with panel respondents.

Among those interviewed, 275 had children 19 years of age who resided in the household in 1980 but had not been interviewed in 1992. Twenty-five (9%) elected not to provide the name and phone number of the offspring. Of the 250 names of offspring provided by parents, interviews were obtained from 220 (88%) of them. Of the 220 offspring interviews, 73 (33%) were first time interviews of offspring who were eligible to be interviewed in 1992, but could not be reached in that year. The remaining 147 (66%) interviews were obtained from offspring who became eligible in the fifth wave. Offspring were eligible in 1992 if they had lived with their interviewed parent in 1980 and were 7 years of age or older in that year. Offspring were eligible in 1997 if they had lived with their interviewed parent in 1980 and were between the ages of 2 and 6 in that year. These estimates are slightly conservative due to a small number of offspring who had died or were too ill to be interviewed in 1997. Table 2 shows the estimated response rates of offspring from both 1992 and 1997.

Representativeness of Fifth Wave. To understand how attrition affected our sample, the 1980 characteristics of the individuals interviewed in 1998 was compared with the characteristics of the entire sample in 1980. For comparisons with intermediate waves, the reader may consult "Marital Instability Over the Life Course Methodology Report and Code book for Four Wave Panel Study, 1993." The results are shown in Table 3.

In general, the characteristics of those we were able to re-interview in 1997 are very similar to those in the 1980 sample. Attrition did occur in predictable categories, namely; those who were 14 -24 years of age, blacks, males, renters, those households where the husband had not had any college, southern residents, and those residing in metropolitan areas. However, in all cases the differences are very slight; most are less than 3%.

Logistic analysis was used to test whether some demographic and marital quality variables affect the probability of not being included in the fifth wave of interviews. Two analyses are shown in Table 4. The top panel tests whether 1992 demographic characteristics affect the probability of non-interview in 1997. All of the variables were entered into the equation at the same time. None of the 1992 demographic variables had significant effects on the probability of non-interview in 1997.

The bottom panel shows the effect of five 1992 marital quality indicators on the probability of not being interviewed in 1997 while controlling for respondent's age, gender, tenure, and education, as well as whether children were present in the household. Each marital quality variable was estimated separately. None of the 1992 variables significantly predicted non-interview in 1997. These result suggest that estimates we obtain will not be biased against any particular group, and any conclusions we make from the sample will, for the most part, be representative of the target population.

Table 4. 1992 Characteristics Predicting Non—interview in 1997

	B	Sig.

Marital Interaction	.0297	.5413
Marital Disagreement	.1121	.1129
Marital Problems	.0785	.2140
Marital Instability	.6665	.6221

To understand the factors that influenced whether or not we obtained the name and phone number of offspring from the parent and the factors that influenced whether or not an offspring interview was obtained, we used logistic regression to test whether 1992 parent demographic and marital quality variables affected the probability of a non-interview. In the top panel of Table 5 we show the influence of the demographic factors and in the bottom panel, the influence of the quality of the parent's marriage. Again, each of the marital quality variables were estimated separately.

Table 5. 1992 Characteristics Predicting Non-interview With Offspring

	B	Sig
Age	-.1094	.0000

Marital Interaction	.0112	.7681
Marital Disagreement	-.0058	.9086
Marital Problems	-.0814	..0734
Marital Instability	-.7814	.0147

Variables that had a significant effect on non-interview were age of interviewed parent, whether or not their parents had divorced and parents' marital instability. Older respondents, respondents who had experienced divorced, and respondents with more unstable marriages were less likely to provide a name and phone number, and we were less likely to obtain an interview. We also ran a logistic analysis using 1980 data. No demographic or parental marriage variables affected the probability of a non—interview. In summary, conclusions we draw from analysis of the offspring will be highly representative of the target population.

Management of the Study. The procedures for managing the study were almost identical to those used in 1992. Computer aided interviewing was again used in 1997. The process of managing the interviewers and the interviews, the quality control measures through verification, methods for data cleaning, data entry and coding were the same, as were the procedures for merging the adult and offspring data with the first three waves. The reader may want to consult the wave four methodology report for details.

Lists of responses to open ended items are shown in Appendix H. Scales for key variables were constructed in much the same manner as in prior years. The way in which they were constructed and their frequency distributions appear in Appendix I. A list of the variables in the merged file is contained in Appendix J, and a list of study staff may be found in Appendix B.

Total Family Income:

FAMINC5a, FAMINC5b, FMINC5Oa, FMINC5Ob, FMINC5Na, FMINC5Nb

Two separate family income variables were created each for the original respondents, their offspring originally interviewed in 1992, and their offspring interviewed for the first time in 1997. The variables FamInca, Fminc5Oa, and Fminc5Na were created to match the variable created in previous waves. The variables FamIncb, Fminc5ob, and Fminc5nb were created due to the addition of income categories in 1997.

FAMINCa, FMINC5Oa, FMINC5Na:

A combination of three items was used to construct this variable for each wave of data. The few individuals who said their income was less than $20,000 but who wouldn't specify further, were assigned the value of $12,500; the individuals indicating incomes of $20,000 or above who did not specify further were assigned the value of $27,500. The midpoint of each interval listed in the questions was used to assign dollar value. For the last five intervals (10-14), $65,000 was used. This provided the same categories that were used in previous analyses.

FAMINC5b, FMINC5Ob, FMINC5Nb:

A combination of the same three variables was used to construct this variable for each wave of data. Individuals who said their income was less than $20,000, but who wouldn't specify further, were again assigned the value of $12,500; individuals indicating incomes of $20,000 or above who did not specify further were assigned the value of $27,500. The midpoint of each interval listed in the questions was used to assign dollar value. For the last interval, $105,000 was used.

Wife's percentage of family income was multiplied by family income. Items E596, Sexr5, Mar5, and E597 were combined to create a married females' income variable for the original panel respondents. Two separate figures were calculated, one for each of the income variables.

Wife's income was also calculated for offspring. Items D465, D468, Sxrd, and Mard were used to calculate wives' income of offspring first interviewed in 1992, while items Incs, Inc, Sxrn, and Marn were used to calculate wives' income of offspring first interviewed in 1997. Again, two versions of the wives' income variable were calculated for each group of offspring.

Marital Instability: LOGRMI5 LOGRMI5O LOGRMI5N

These indices of marital instabililty are based on 27 items asked of people who are married in 1992. These items were recoded, summed, and the resulting variable was logged to bring the distributional quality more in line with multiple regression assumptions. Higher scores indicate greater marital instability.

Marital/Cohabiting Partner Happiness:

MARHAP5 MARHAP50 PRTHAP5O MARHAP5N PRTHAP5N

A summated scale using eleven items reflecting the amount of happiness with: 1) extent of understanding received from spouse/partner; 2) amount of love received; 3) extend of agreement about things; 4) sexual relationship; 5) spouse/partner as someone who takes care of things around the house; 6) spouse/partner as someone to do things with; 7) spouse's faithfulness; 8) evaluation of marriage/relationship as very happy, pretty happy, or not too happy; 9) compared to other marriages/relationships, respondent's is better, same, or not as good; 10) comparing the marriage/relationship to three years ago, it it getting better, staying the same or getting worse; and 11) strength of feelings of love the respondent has for spouse/partner. The scale has possible scores from 11 to 34. Items, except E535, D181, D268, N195, and N282 were reverse coded so that a high score means greater happiness. Items E535, D181, D268, N195, N282 were also recoded so that the range of scores was from 1 to 3 to be consistent with the other items.

Marital/Cohabiting Disagreement: DISAGRE5 DISGR5OF DISGR5PR DISGR5NO DISGR5NP

A summated scale of four items: 1) disagreements over share of housework done by respondent; 2) frequency of disagreements with spouse/partner; 3) number of serious quarrels with spouse/partner within the last two months; and 4) arguments involving physical abuse.

Scale values range from 0 to 12. Higher scored indicate greater disagreement. Because of outliers, E441 was recoded: 2 thru 9998 = 1. Variables E421 and E425 were reverse coded to be consistent with the other two items. To create this scale, a regression equation was developed, based on scales created in 1980, 1983, and then the created scale was rounded.

Sex Roles: SEXROLE5 SEXROL5O SEXROL5N

A summated scale using seven items: 1)wife's most important task: caring for children; 2) husband should earn higher pay than wife; 3) husband shouldn't worry if wife gone overnight in connection with job; 4) if wife works full-time, husband should help with housework; 5) if jobs scarce, wife shouldn't work; 6) working mothers can have just as good of a relationship with kids; and 7) even if wife works, husband should be main breadwinner. Response categories for E206, E207, E210, and E212 were recoded to reflect that higher scores indicate more traditional values.

Because items had a number of "Don't Knows", the scale was constructed by adding the value of the items for which there was an answer and weighting that total for the number of items with "Don't Know" information: for example, a score of 20 on 6 times would be weighted as SEXROLE5 = 20 * (7/6). The scale was then rounded.

N546 number of tracking references received

That completes the interview. I want to thank you so much for the time you have spent answering these questions. You and your [fill PREL] are part of a very important study of families.
No other study to date has collected so much information about families over such a long period of time, and your participation has made it possible. There is a lot of interest in families today, and the research to which you have contributed adds a lot of information to people's knowledge about trends and changes in family life.
Your help is greatly appreciated!!

DESCRIPTION OF STUDY
WORK AND FAMILY LIFE STUDY
IRB 94-03-218 EP

The work and family life study originated in 1980 when a group of researchers was interested in explaining why wife's employment may affect the quality of family life. The original sample consisted of about 2,000 currently married respondents who were selected from across the nation (United States) using an RDD (Random Digit Dialing) method. Since then, we have spoken to the respondent in 1983, 1988, 1992, and we are, with this wave, talking with them for the 5th time.

Since 1980, the scope of the study has expanded to include multiple dimensions of marital quality. Specifically, the researchers have examined (1) stability and developmental change in marital quality, (2) whether marital quality is a personal quality of each individual or whether it is relationship-specific, and (3) the nature of the patterns of change in marital quality.

Put simply, the researchers have dedicated a lot of time and resources to studying marriage and work patterns over the past 17 years. They are interested in knowing the ways in which change in life course events and change in marital quality and stability influence one another.

In 1992, a new dimension was added to the study. We began interviewing the adult offspring who were also living in the household in 1980. This allowed the researchers to examine information on the quality of the parents' marriage (from the parent's point of view) while the offspring was still in the household and under the age of 19, as well as information from adult offspring about a variety of factors that might be affected by parental divorce and marital quality. This is one reason why these interviews are so important - they make up the only data set of its kind where information is obtained from both children and parents in this manner.

With the 1997 wave of interviewing, we add some additional offspring who were present in the household in 1980 and have, since 1992, turned 19 and become eligible for the adult offspring interview. When asking the parents for information, it is important that the child was present in the household in 1980. We already know how the parents feel about marital quality and happiness in 1980, and now we need to ask the kids about their own perceptions of that marital quality as they were growing up and as it was in 1980. In addition, we ask them questions regarding their own work and family life to see if the family environment which existed in 1980 has an effect on the adult children's lives now.

A. Work Schedule

The clerical assistants (most likely Kye) will arrange your calling schedule with you. If you are assigned a time on a given day, it is extremely important that you are there. If you cannot be there for any reason, it is your responsibility to find a replacement. A list of other interviewers and their telephone numbers will be provided to you for this purpose. If it is impossible to schedule another interviewer, call your supervisor as soon as possible. Failure to follow these procedures can lead to your termination from the project.

B. Daily Procedures

1. Checking In

The first thing you should do each time you come into the office to work is to sign yourself in (be sure to indicate the office or phone number you will be working at either on the sign in and/or the sign out sheet). Check your file folder. Memos to the entire staff as well as individual notes concerning problems will be placed in your folder. Don't forget to sign out too!

2. Preparing to Interview

Arm yourself with a copy of the Interviewer's Guide for this study. You should select a set of cover sheets for each shift. In selecting cover sheets, you should 1) look in the appointments folder for call-backs to be made on a specific day, 2) then look through the call-back stack and find those that have been called previously at other times, or those indicating that the respondent will be at home during your shift. After you have selected these,
3) now you may select new cover sheets.
Be very careful not to mix up the stacks of cover sheets; they are very carefully labeled on the shelves.

Cover sheets:
This is a national study. We are interviewing respondents in four different time zones ranging from 1 hour ahead of us (9 when we are at 8:00) to 2 hours behind us (7 and 6 when we are 8). PLEASE BE VERY CAREFUL TO CALL THESE DIFFERENT TIME ZONES AT APPROPRIATE HOURS:

EASTERN	8 AM	TO	8 PM
CENTRAL	9 AM	TO	9 PM
MOUNTAIN	10 AM	TO	10 PM
PACIFIC	11 AM	TO	11 PM

Only take Cover sheets from one time zone at a time. COVER SHEETS ARE MARKED WITH E, C, M, OR P IN THE UPPER LEFT HAND CORNER. If you come in before 5 PM, call Eastern, at least for the first couple of hours. If you are in the office around 8 PM, try calling some of the Mountain and Pacific time zones.

3. Materials

Each time you come in to interview, be sure you have with you:
(1) Your Interviewer's Manual;
(2) Name and Address List for Respondents Requesting Information; and
(3) Weekly Progress Report Form.

C. PANEL RESPONDENTS -
Re-interviewing Respondents Who Have Been Interviewed Before

1. The respondents you are interviewing have all been interviewed before in 1980, 1983, 1988, and in 1992. We are attempting to re-interview each respondent from the earlier surveys. This will have some good points as well as drawbacks. In the first place, it means that you should get few refusals, since all of these people have agreed to help us four times in the past. It does, however, mean that we have to find a particular person rather than selecting households at random. Some respondents will still be living in the same place as they were when we last interviewed them and it will be a relatively simple matter to find them at home and get their interview. Other respondents will have moved, will have changed their phone number, may have given us false names, etc. These people will have to be traced, a process we call "tracking."

2. Tracking - To the extent possible we have identified all of the people needing to be tracked before interviewing started. Thus, when you get a cover sheet, we have already done some work on this respondent and have every reason to believe he/she is still at that telephone number. It is still possible, however, that you will find that the respondent you are seeking is no longer at the number you call. In this instance, we are asking the interviewer to get as much information as possible, and, if unable to immediately locate the respondent, to turn the cover sheet back to the Tracking stack. It is very important in this study that we make every attempt to locate all the original respondents in the study. Most of the job of tracking respondents will be done separately from the interviewing by specially trained trackers. However, interviewers play an important part in the tracking process as it is in this step that the need for tracking a given respondent is first identified. Interviewers attach the tracking forms and it is important that the reason the respondent needs to be tracked is clearly indicated on these forms.

3. The Cover Sheet - Each cover sheet specifies a particular telephone number and a particular respondent. If the respondent is known to have moved since the last interview, the appropriate telephone number and address will be handwritten toward the right-hand side of the cover sheet under the heading, "new address and new telephone number." In addition, tracking forms will be stapled to the back of the cover sheet to show the progression of finding the respondent if we know he/she moved since the last interview. The information on this tracking sheet provides the trackers with reference numbers of relatives who knew where the respondent was.

4. Each call you make must be recorded in the call-back record on the face of the cover sheet. For each call, record your interviewer number, the hour of day, date, day of week, and the result of the call.

5. It is possible that the number you dial will be unassigned. If this happens, make one call-back IMMEDIATELY to make sure you dialed correctly. If it is still unassigned, put this under "Non-interview Information" on the back of the cover sheet and return the cover sheet to the Tracking stack.

6. If you get an answer, ask to speak to the respondent. If the respondent is available, read the statement on computer screen. Make it as conversational as possible. Add additional information to reduce suspicion, if necessary. This phase of the telephone interview is most important in securing a successful interview. Be your most convincing and as resolute as possible.

CONVINCING RELUCTANT RESPONDENTS

The following are points you may want to make:

". . . It is important that we talk with all of the people we talked to in 1992. The purpose of the study is to find out how things have changed in people's work and family life since we last interviewed you. We can only measure this change if everyone previously interviewed takes part."

". . . You are a part of a unique study. In fact, this is the only information of this kind in the world where people's work and family lives have been studied over a 17 year period."

". . . It may seem like a long time to talk on the phone, but we can complete it in 2 or 3 different sessions if we need to. Let's just get started on it and you can stop me when you need to go."

". . . The study is sponsored by the NATIONAL INSTITUTE ON AGING, Penn State University, and the University of Nebraska at Lincoln. It is directed by Dr. David Johnson, Dr. Alan Booth, and Dr. Paul Amato. You are welcome to call Dr. Johnson or the Bureau of Sociological Research collect at (402) 472-3672 for more information, or you may call the Office of University Information at (402) 472-2167 to verify the validity of this study."

". . . We will be glad to send you the results of the survey if you are interested, or I can read a copy of the letter[1] we sent to you last

[1]Refer to the copy of the letter sent to the respondents in the Fall of 1996 in Appendix A.

> Fall. We have already sent a selection of results of previous surveys in letters addressed to you."

7. If the respondent is not there when you reach your number, find out whether the respondent lives there and, if so, when it is likely that you can catch him or her.

8. If the respondent does not live at this number try to find out as much information as possible. Try to find out whether the respondent has ever lived there, when and where they might have moved, and if the present residents have ever heard of the respondent, how long they, themselves, have lived at this number. All the information should be entered onto the back of the coversheet (or a Tracking sheet) -- even if it is all negative. Remember, you are not a trained tracker. You should, however, get as much information as possible to aid trackers while you are on the line. In the case where the person you are talking to knows exactly what the respondent's new phone number is, however, by all means go ahead and attempt to get the interview. Be sure to: (1) enter the new telephone number and address (if possible) on the face of the cover sheet; (2) check the box which indicates that the respondent has moved; (3) check on the back of the cover sheet that you have tracked the respondent; and (4) attach the Tracking Sheet. Remember, it is not intended that you serve as trackers; use this procedure only if you are given a definite number where the respondent can be reached -- do not look through telephone directories or engage in any search procedures.

9. If you get no answer or a busy signal, dial back IMMEDIATELY to make sure you have the correct number. If you still don't get an answer, fill out the details on the call-back form and return the cover sheet to the call-back stack at the end of your shift.

10. We will keep calling each number until we get either a refusal or a completion. If we get no answer after ten calls (home, business, or cellular telephone), however, we will institute special procedures to make sure it is a working number. If you get the tenth NA, mark this category in the Non-interview form and return the cover sheet to the Tracking stack.

11. Sign your initials and Interviewer I.D. number to a cover sheet only in the instances where you "close out" a cover sheet: where you complete an interview, where the respondent refuses, or where you find the respondent is deceased. All other close outs will be done by trackers.

12. The Call-Back Record is our primary means of tracing the progress of an interview. It is vital that each call you make be recorded on this sheet, REGARDLESS OF THE OUTCOME. You should use the following codes to indicate the results of your calls. Other alternatives should be indicated as clearly as possible.

CI	Completed Interview
PCI	Partially Completed Interview
REF	Refusal by Respondent
NA	No Answer
RNA	Respondent Not Available
TRACK	Respondent not at that number
(unassigned)	Needs to be tracked

D. Interviewing the Respondent - Guide to Good Interviewing

This interview should average 30 to 60 minutes. It is designed so that much of the material is pre-coded; only a few questions are open-ended or require probing. Most questions should be asked verbatim unless otherwise indicated. There is a wide variety of questions and we think both you and the respondent will find it interesting. The interview schedule has been extensively pre-tested and we do not believe you should have significant difficulty with any of the items. Any problems or questions you do have, however, should be reported immediately to any of the supervisors or supervisory staff. If you are not completing the interviews correctly, we may request you to return to correct your mistakes--often at your own expense! A certain proportion of your interviews will be verified by Bureau staff. This means that your supervisor will contact the respondent again and verify that the interview was actually taken and all of the questions asked. Any evidence of fabricated respondents or responses will lead to immediate termination of employment. Accuracy and completeness are absolutely essential for a good, reliable interview. If you follow instructions carefully and are attentive in the training session, we believe you will find the interview task a rewarding and enjoyable experience.

1. Do not read respondents information typed in all capital letters. This is for your information. Headings not typed in all capitals are read to respondents. Do not read the information recorded above a dash-line - this indicates the heading was read before on the first question in this series of questions.

2. Do not read respondents the alternatives unless indicated.

3. Read all questions verbatim, except where it clearly states that you are to use your own words. Do not vary wording or emphasis from interview to interview. If the respondent does not understand the question, first try reading it again. If the respondent still doesn't understand or asks, "What do you mean by . . .?" or "could you explain what . . . means?" you should try to redirect it to the respondent by giving them the response categories as suggestions. Tell them you want them to answer as they understand the questions. If this doesn't work, you should record a DK (don't know) answer. In cases where the schedule suggests that you probe for further details, you have some latitude in rewording or restructuring the question.

4. Try to keep the interview moving! Often the respondent may want to talk a lot about a subject; try to prod them on (nicely) and proceed with the interview.

5. If you are in doubt about what category to assign a response, give full information on back of cover sheet and leave it to the supervisor.

6. DK means Don't Know. REF means Refused.

7. Enter every bit of information called for. Any problems or questions should be recorded on back of cover sheet.

8. When given a list of categories from which to select respondent's answer, use "Other" only when it definitely will not fit existing categories. If it is close to some other category or part of the answer fits a category, use the category and not "Other."

E. Using the Computer

You will be sitting in front of an IBM-PC computer which will display the questions, one at a time, that you are to ask of the respondent. When they give you an answer either to a pre-coded or open-ended question, you will then key in the answer on the computer keyboard. The computer will then go on to the next appropriate question until the interview is completed. This procedure has the advantage of automatically following the correct skip patterns, and recording the answers on a disk.

IF YOU'RE WORKING IN 4TH FLOOR INTERVIEWING ROOMS OR IN 727A OR 727B.

1) The computer will automatically boot up to the menu for CASES interviewing.

2) Ten computer workstations will be available for interviewing during the day. Two of them are located in 727A and 727B; the other eight are located on the 4th floor.

IF YOU'RE WORKING IN A STAFF OR FACULTY OFFICE ON 7TH FLOOR:

Each office has a floppy disk (5-1/4" or 3-1/2") that has been created for the computer in that particular office. This disk allows you to boot up directly into the network menu of studies the BOSR is working on rather than to the computer's own hard drive and operating environment. If you are working in a faculty or staff office, you must make sure that you have the disk that is assigned to that machine, or you will not be able to access the network properly.

After the menu appears on the screen, chose the study (DIVORCE MAIN RESPONDENTS, DIVORCE OLD OFFSPRING, DIVORCE NEW OFFSPRING) by pressing the arrow key until the selected study is highlighted, then press the ENTER key.

After a few minutes, you will be asked for your name followed by the Case ID Number. You will enter this number from the top of the cover sheet.

Some helpful tips about using CASES:
Procedures for Recording the Respondent's Answers

a. The questions you will be asking will appear on the screen, along with the answer options. Just key the digit corresponding to the answer selected by the respondent. Some questions require an open-ended response. In this case, you will need to type in the response, just like you were typing their answer on a typewriter, and type in /// when finished and the ENTER button.

b. You may accidentally enter the wrong number, or the respondent might change his/her mind after you have already entered the answer. This is not a problem, as it is possible to go back to the previous question at any time. All you need to do is press the F1 key to go backward to previous questions. This will back you up to the last question that was entered and a line will appear at the top of the screen which reads "current answer for this question is X"

c. If you need to change a response, press the F2 key, which will produce an arrow which states "Enter a valid response ===>" to which you should enter the corrected response. If you are not back at the screen of the next unanswered question, press the F8 key (forward) to move forward in the questionnaire to the next unanswered question. The questions will continue on from that point.

d. If the respondent does not have time now to complete the survey, or terminates before you reach the end, you can get out of the interview by pressing F7, the call back key. This will end this interview, record the information on the network and send you back to the screen for entering the ID for another respondent. Record on the cover sheet that you have a PCI (partially completed interview), and include details, such as at which question R ended. When you and R are ready to complete the interview, you just re-inter the ID# at the Case ID ===>, and follow instructions on the screen carefully.

e. You will be asked to keep a list of all respondent ID numbers you have interviewed. There will be a place to indicate if the respondent did or did not complete the interview. If you are completing an interview begun by another interviewer, be sure to carefully examine all of the details on the cover sheet to be familiar with the respondent.

f. If you need to make a note regarding a particular question, at any point in the interview you can press F4 (note) and you will receive a TEXT ===> prompt. Type in the message you want to leave, then end it with /// (three slashes) and press the ENTER key. If you need to leave a message that is longer than one line on the screen, be sure to press ENTER before you reach the end of the screen to advance to the next line.
You will then be prompted with ANSWER ===> . You still need to enter a response for this question. If the note you leave is in regard to R not feeling comfortable with the wording of the question or making an important qualification of his/her response, try to put the response into a category, but if it cannot be placed into one of the given categories, enter the numeric code for Don't Know as the response.

g. If you select OTHER as a response to a question, you will once again be prompted with TEXT ===>. Type in a description of the OTHER response, and end it once again with 3 slashes (///) and press the ENTER key. (see f. above regarding 2 or more lines of text.)

Important Information on PCIs
Callback Procedures:

Please follow these instructions when you need to get back into an interview so that we can get an accurate time on each interview:

Read the call back screen carefully.
Type "go" when the computer tells you to. This will return you to the next question to be asked of the respondent. THIS SCREEN SERVES AS A REMINDER TO YOU THAT THIS IS WHERE THE INTERVIEW ENDED. THIS IS NOT THE TIME TO CALL THE RESPONDENT BACK AND START THE INTERVIEW AGAIN - YOU NEED TO TELL THE COMPUTER THIS IS AN APPROPRIATE PLACE TO BEGIN AGAIN, AND THE COMPUTER WILL TELL YOU WHEN TO CALL THE RESPONDENT BACK. YOU TELL THE COMPUTER WHERE THE APPROPRIATE QUESTION TO BEGIN AGAIN IS BY DOING THE FOLLOWING: Now you need to get into the command mode by hitting the F3 OR by hitting CTRL-C. NOW type "cx" to go back to the screen that tells you to dial the respondent.

Function keys:

F1 - Backup
F2 - Change the current answer
F3 - Command prompt - this is what you need to type "cx"
F4 - Note - you want to make a note about the response
F7 - PCI - partially completed interview
F8 - Forward - move forward in the questionnaire

This is a very interesting study to which all of us can relate. We are all members of families, and family life is largely what is being studied. However, it is VERY important that you refrain from sharing your own marriage, family, and work life experiences. Try to avoid engaging in conversations about your own upbringing, family life, marital status, etc.

Because we are calling across the U.S., you might find yourself calling a town or city in which you have friends or relatives in or near. Do not share the names of anyone you know with any of the respondents. You breach our code of ethics and promise of confidentiality when you present potential ties to yourself and the BOSR to the respondent or a respondent's offspring.

Be an active listener, but keep your own family and work life a mystery to the person you are talking to.

Guide to Specific Questions

Before calling the respondent, familiarize yourself with essential demographics about the respondent. Specifically, sex, age, and family composition from the 1992 Summary Table, divorce, separation and widowhood and remarriage information from the cover sheet, and information on adult offspring which will be attached.

This information will help you in two ways. First, if we have incomplete or inaccurate information for locating the respondent, the data will help you be sure that you are talking to the right person. Second, the information will help you make comparisons called for in questions on household composition and questions on changes in marital status. The information on the adult offspring will be important when you obtain the phone number and addresses of offspring at the end of the interview.

Be sure to carefully examine every page of the cover sheet. Look over the 1992 household table and familiarize yourself with it, and be sure to be aware of the 1980 household table if this is a pumpkin cover sheet. Look over the eligible children and names if provided. Pay close attention to any handwritten notes ANYWHERE on any of the pages of the cover sheet.

Keep in mind that these folks have been helping us out for 17 years now, and they have not received any compensation for their cooperation. Be gracious and respectful, as you always should be. The youngest adult panel respondent will be 35 years of age; the rest of the sample is older.

The screen number corresponds to the question number and appears in the upper left-hand corner. Special instructions for selected questions follow.

RNAM - Although we know the full name of the respondent, we would like to know the first name they usually go by or like to be referred to as. For instance, if the full name is Robert R. Smith, perhaps the respondent goes by Bob. Amber Lou Jones might like to be called Lou.

MAR5 - This is a key question - we are asking for the respondent's current marital status. It is important that you ask the full question, so that respondents who are separated are categorized as just that and not as currently married. While it is true they are technically still married, there are different sets of questions for each marital status, and some of the married questions are not appropriate for separated respondents. Also, if you get farther into the interview - say to the rest of the household table, and find this respondent is married but living alone (but not married, living apart), you may want to probe to find out why - and if you find out s/he is separated, you'll want to tell the respondent you are having computer problems so that you can contact a supervisor, change the marital status, and proceed with the appropriate questions on the interview.

NAM2-MA05: The purpose of these items is to obtain information on every resident of the household. Information on up to ten people can be entered in the computer. If there are more than ten in the household, record information on additional people on the back of the cover sheet. Babies under the age of one are recorded as 0. In computing years of schooling completed, do not count nursery school, pre-school, or kindergarten years. Children who have yet to attend school are recorded 0.

REL25 - REL05: A stepchild is a <2> child of R/spouse NOT OTHER RELATIVE. A question follows if you respond with <2>, asking the status of this child.

ED25-ED05: (years of education questions)- A GED is equivalent to 12 years of education.

E69: It is important to confirm what our records show about the person's marital status. That is the basis upon which we which we obtain information on changes which have occurred. If the differences are so great you feel that R was probably not interviewed in 1992, terminate interview and turn into supervisor.

E71: When asking the question about what has happened since 1992, keep in mind their status at that time. When you ask "How many months ago did you divorce?", be sure the time does not exceed the total elapsed time between interviews (approximately 60 months). If they say they divorced 5 years ago, make sure it was not before January of 1992. If the divorce did occur prior to the last interview, you may have to make changes to the 1992 household information page (see E112).

Asking about all of these marital statuses or changes may seem redundant or out of place, but a lot of marital changes might have happened between now and 1992, so we need to ask everyone about all of the possibilities. It is possible to have been widowed and remarried, or both divorced and remarried, etc.

E81 -"Have there been any changes in your household since we interviewed you in 1992? My records tell me ...[read info from 1992 household table]..." You have the 1992 household composition table stapled to the coversheet to refer to and to compare to their current household for each respondent. It does not include names, but does include sex, relationship to R, age, marital status, and years of education for each person in R's household in 1992. You might want to go over these people for R to see if there are any changes.

E82-E97 Remember to enter marital status changes first, in order of occurrence.

E111 -The changes in the household should be listed on the right hand side of the screen; verify that these occurred and/or specify what's incorrect.

E115 -Internal interviewer question --indicate if R says 1992 household information was correct or not. If not, key in <1>, record the changes briefly on the screen, and record the correct information on the 1992 sheet in detail.

E116-E119 These questions are only asked of people who have indicated they have ever been divorced on the previous surveys in 1983, 1988, and 1992. On E119- (Maiden name changes), this does not have to be a LEGAL name change.

E128 A town house is a row house where each unit has access to the outdoors. A condominium could be either a town house or apartment.

E130 - counting children who live with you and children who don't how many children have you had ---this INCLUDES ONLY natural children and adopted children.

E131 - "Do you have any children not living with you?" This includes stepchildren of R who lived with the respondent and his/her spouse at some time. It does not include stepchildren who have never lived with the R and his/her spouse.

This also does not include children who have died. If the respondent offers a child who has died, simply record the information about the child's death on the cover sheet, but record 5 - No for the answer to this question.

E153- (Miles away from home.) If a person doesn't know how many miles away their child lives, but knows they live in Albany, NY for example, make a note of that. (Use text key -F4.)

E168+, E182+, E188+,
E206+, E214+,
E396+, E406+, E411+, E421+, E472+, E561+
Repeat possible responses for each stem until you are sure R understands. If R. indicates a "No Opinion/Neutral" response to the strongly agree-strongly disagree questions, use "Don't Know".

E178 - "The lot of the average person is getting worse, not better." - this may sound a little funny, and it probably doesn't follow 1997 jargon. REMEMBER, though, these respondents were adults in 1980, and they didn't think it sounded too weird then, and they'll be able to relate better than you think to the wording, even today. It's the wording that has been used the other 4 times we spoke to them, so it must be read as-is.

E188 - If the respondent lives on a farm or in a rural area and seems to have trouble knowing what the "neighborhood" is, you might offer "...your neighborhood or community..."

E189 - Because we don't know yet whether or not the respondent is employed, we cannot instruct the computer to skip this question for non-employed persons. However, if someone offers, "I don't have a job or career/I'm retired/I'm not working/ etc.", you have an option <7> NOT CURRENTLY EMPLOYED to enter.

E232, E234
E244, E246 - (Miles away.) If a person doesn't know how many miles away their mother/father/parents live, but knows they live in Albany, NY for example, make a note of that. (Use text key -F4.)

E245, E247 - In regard to questions about contact with one's parents or parents-in-law, we are talking specifically about the respondent, not R's spouse or other relative. For instance, if you ask the respondent how long it has been since he/she spoke with spouse's mother and he/she replies that his/her spouse speaks to her daily, you would probe with, "... how many days has it been since you spoke with...your spouse's mother?" If R says they received a letter from the spouse's mother seven days ago, then enter 7 days. You don't need to probe to find out if the letter was addressed to R directly.

E264, E270. If R mentions more than 10 say, "We mean only your closest relatives/friends." If they decline to alter the number, enter the number they mentioned or 97 if it's greater than 97, and merely proceed with the questioning.

E283,
E307,
E339 If R is retired but working part-time, code the status highest in order on the list - in this case, you would code in <2> "Working part-time", because it appears higher on the list than retired.

E285,
E309,
E341 The kind of work must be obtained in enough detail so that the occupation can be coded for status and various census categories. We are referring only to employment for a wage or living - full-time or part-time, and this does not include volunteer work experiences. Therefore, obtain all of the information about the job that is asked for. In some cases, the title is enough such as elementary school teacher. But in others, it is not. For engineer, it is necessary to obtain type (e.g., electrical), duties (e.g., the individual may be a maintenance engineer who sweeps floors and does minor repairs, or the person may be a full time administrator), type of industry (whether it is a high tech firm or public utility may make a difference), and whether the individual is self-employed (person may be a marginally employed consultant or work for a stable high prestige firm). We don't need to know the name of the company; in fact, we'd rather not see the name, but rather a good description of the size and type of company it is.

lwo4	fwo4	gos4	div4		2con

- translation of years to months - if this entails a long time - many years - this number of months might seem a little weird to offer. You might just preface it by saying, "Okay, so if I convert that amount of time to months, it comes to about ## months, does that sound about right?"

If the number of months is incorrect and you answer “no”, you will be taken back to the first question - enter number, next question asks years or months...” If the response to this first question is correct (it appears at the top of the screen), you can simply hit F8 to move forward until you find the place where the data entry error occurred. At the point of error, hit F2 to change the incorrect response.

E290,
E314, E346 - Unemployment refers to being laid off and being unable to find a job. People who take voluntary leaves to have a baby or go to school are not included.

E293,
E317, E349 - Reduction in pay does not refer to reduction created by no increase in face of inflation, but refers to actual reduction in take-home dollars because of reduction in hours or salary or loss of a job.

E294, E318, E351 - Does not refer to transfers within the same company.

E379 - How long since you divorced - if R asks you to clarify, say, "Since the divorce was granted by the courts."

E373, E376,
E383: Read these questions as written, but if R asks, "What do you mean by "going with", then you may say dating or going out with. Remember, once again, these terms might be a bit “dated”, but these same respondents knew what they meant in 1980, 83, 88, and again in 92, so I don’t think they’ll be too put out by the use of the terms. You are probably more uncomfortable with it than they are. All of the adult panel respondents are age 35 or older.

E503 --enter the number of years (not the year 95,96,97!!)

E538 - We are asking the respondent to remember how happy the marriage s/he was involved in when interviewed in 1980 was. Even if the respondents has divorced or widowed and remarried, even numerous times, we are asking for her/his memory of the happiness of the marriage in 1980.

E539 - Questions about offspring we have interviewed. These are only asked of people whose child we interviewed in 1992. The child's name will appear in the context of the questions so R knows who we are asking about.

The respondent may wonder why you are asking questions about this particular child. At this point you might remind them that...

> "In 1992, we asked for information on how to contact [child's name]. We interviewed [child's name] in the Spring of 1992, and now we are just asking some follow-up questions about your son/daughter."

INC/E595 - "Total Family Income" refers to salaries, wages, tips, interest income - all sources of income for the household during the previous year. Do not rephrase to ask what the respondent's salary or wages were - it also includes a spouse's salary and sources of income.

E596 - E597 The individual's contributions include their own earnings plus any unemployment or disability that they receive in their own right. Family payments such as from welfare are not counted as part of either individual's contribution.

E598 - Retirement, unemployment compensation, disability, social security are not public assistance.

E602, E604 - Record dollar value of house and assets in thousands of dollars!!

E610 & E611 - Indicate yes for both if the respondent says stocks and bonds are part of the IRA or retirement plan.

PUMPKIN/ORANGE COVER SHEETS-
NEED NEW OFFSPRING CONTACT INFORMATION:
E617 - Some parents may refuse or may seem very reluctant to give out their adult children contact information. You may offer to R that s/he can contact the child/children first, and we can call back or s/he may call in collect to provide the information in a week or two. We'd rather call back or get it at a later date than not get it at all. Enter the appropriate responses to E618 and E628, then be sure to indicate on the cover sheet this household needs to be called again for child contact information.

If R. wants to know whether the child will be told if we got their name from them, tell them we will be sending them a letter informing about the study and where we got the name before telephoning them. If R. says offspring won't want to be interviewed say,

> "Most people find the questions interesting and enjoy telling about their work & family. Let us try. Often people who are reluctant initially enjoy the experience of talking to us after they see what it is all about."

Make sure you look over the 1980 household composition table before you begin asking for addresses and phone numbers of Adult Children to interview. Children have to have been at least age 2 or older in 1980 to be chosen. ONLY children who were present in the household in 1980 and who are listed on this table are eligible as adult offspring - there may be older children who were not living at home in 1980, but we are not interested in talking to them at this time. The first child is always highlighted in yellow. Number two child has a #2 written BEHIND IT!!!! Please go through the cover sheets and make sure you understand what children you are asking about --don't be afraid to ask the interviewer supervisors if you are unsure.

1str, 2str, 1cit, 2cit, 1pho, 2pho
- contact information - if the respondent does not know this,
enter DK for Don't Know

1ext,
2ext - zip code extensions. If the respondent does not provide this extension, enter a / followed by the enter key to go on to the next question.

At the end of recording the child contact information (address and phone number, etc), you are asked to read it back and confirm it. If the information, or some piece of it, is incorrect, you will be taken back to the first item - 1fir or 2fir. If the information is correct as it appears at the top of the screen

Current answer for this question: ...

Simply hit F8 to move forward until you reach the item you need to change. Hit F2 to change the incorrect response, and continue to hit F8 until you get to the next unanswered question.

E630 -

Do not use the term "reference" to refer to the people who will know where R can be reached. When obtaining the names and addresses of references, include first and middle name or initial and husband's first name if the person is a married or widowed woman.

You need to turn to the back side of the 1992 household summary sheet when you get to this question. First, verify the address of R. If it is correct, simply indicate SAME AS FRONT. If the address has changed, write the correct address in the appropriate area. Then proceed to get the names and addresses of three people who will know how to locate R in case he/she moves or we are unable to reach him/her. Try to get blood relatives whenever possible.

THIS IS A VERY IMPORTANT STEP. BE SURE YOU UNDERSTAND IT AND ARE ABLE TO DO IT CORRECTLY BEFORE YOU BEGIN A REAL INTERVIEW.

IF THE RESPONDENT REQUESTS RESULTS:

In the past, we have provided results to the Work and Family Life respondents in short paragraphs in contact letters sent to them by the study directors. This is not the type of study which is featured on Oprah or in Glamour magazine. Instead, most of the articles and books written about this study appear in scholarly journals and in academic and professional circles. There have been many articles published in The Journal of Marriage and the Family, The Journal of Family Issues, Family Relations, The American Sociological Review, among others. If the respondent requests (and only if they request the information; do not get into a habit of offering it unless they ask for it or seem reluctant without the offer) to see a list of the articles, note this. We will send them a 3-page list of the authors, titles, and journals from which they can either go to a library and read the articles or they may contact us and we will send them a copy of the article of interest to them. We will not send them copies of every article written based on this study; that would number just under 1,000 pages or so, making it impossible for us to mail.

We will not give or sell the respondent's or the children's names, telephone numbers, or contact information to anyone. You may assure respondents they will not receive marketing or sales information as a result of participating in this study. The names and contact information is removed from the data before it is analyzed so confidentiality is protected.

We also will not give the respondent's individual responses to anyone they know now or after they die. Results will only be released in summary form.

Divorce Old Offspring Guide

READ BEFORE YOU BEGIN INTERVIEWING:

When you are ready to start, equip yourself with the following:

1) this guide
2) a copy of the letter sent to offspring respondents (should be attached)
3) coversheets, respondent request form, pencil, etc.
4) FAMILIARITY -- be sure that you have practiced the interview. Run through it with parents divorced, neither remarried, one remarried, one parent dead; the respondent is living with parents, married, single, cohabiting, with children, etc.

Background:

We are interviewing about 470 of the children of respondents in the Work and Family Life Study. These offspring were first identified and called in 1992. Children who were in their parent's household in 1980 and who had reached the age of 19 in 1992 were asked to be interviewed. If more than one child was age 19 or older, we ordered the children using a random number table and picked a first child and a second child to be contacted (and so on). The interviews with the offspring of our main respondents will address many of the same questions that you have asked their parents. Some questions focus on the quality of parent-offspring relations, while others address the quality of the offspring's marriage or other interpersonal relationships (such as with a cohabitant or with children). If respondents are single, we are asking about the quality of their current relationship.

Confidentiality Concerns

IF YOU SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETED AN INTERVIEW WITH AN OFFSPRING'S PARENT, YOU CANNOT INTERVIEW THAT OFFSPRING!!!
To insure confidentiality of all of our respondents' answers, you may not interview an offspring respondent if you have completed an interview with his or her parent. The coversheet will have the id number of the interviewer who completed the interview with the parent. You have already established some rapport with the parent (and probably heard a lot of details about their family life), therefore we do not want you to compromise our promise of confidentiality by also talking with their child and accidently letting something the parent said slip out. Please look over the coversheets you take very carefully. If your ID number is on a cover sheet, put it back in the pile.

Notes on Specific Questions and Situations:

If a marriage is in a state of permanent separation, it is considered no longer intact.

Some of the questions refer to the respondents' relationships 3 years ago. If the respondent has not been married or in the situation for 3 years, do not use the time reference. Ask "since you were married..." etc.

ONAM - Although we have the full name of the respondent, we would like to know the first name they usually go by or like to be called.

MARD - This is a key question --we are asking about the respondent's current marital status. It is important that you ask the full question, so that respondents who are separated are categorized as just that and not as currently married. While it is true that they are technically still married, there are different sets of questions for each marital status, and some of the married questions are not appropriate for separated respondents. Also, if you get farther into the interview, say to the rest of the household questions, and find out this respondent is married but living alone (but not MARRIED, LIVING APART), you may want to probe to find out why --and if you find out s/he is separated or some other marital status other than the one s/he initially gave you, you'll want to tell the respondent you are having computer problems so that you can contact a supervisor, change the marital status, and proceed with the appropriate questions in the interview.

HOUSEHOLD MEMBERS QUESTIONS:
The purpose of these items is to obtain information of every resident in the household. Information on up to 10 people can be entered into the computer. If there are more than 10 people in the household, record information on additional people on the back of the coversheet.

RELATIONSHIP TO R:
It is important that we become aware of respondents who are cohabiting with a partner. Some respondents will volunteer this information when describing how the other resident is related to them (e.g. RE2D). In other cases, you will have to probe. If the respondent mentions living with an adult (18 or over) friend or nonrelative of the opposite sex, ask if this person is a "boyfriend/girlfriend" of the respondent and code as an "8". A few respondents may voluntarily mention that a same sex member of the household is a "partner/lover" which you code as an "8". However, do not probe for this information; simply code all references to same sex friends or non-relatives as 9 "OTHER/NONRELATIVE" if they don't volunteer any details.

AGES OF PEOPLE IN THE HOUSEHOLD:
Babies under the age of 1 are coded as 0.

MARITAL STATUS OF PEOPLE IN THE HOUSEHOLD:
Children under the age of 16 are not asked about their marital status.

EDUCATION OF PEOPLE IN THE HOUSEHOLD:
In computing years of school completed, do not count nursery school, preschool, or kindergarten years. Children who are under the age of 5 do not get asked how many years of education they have.
A GED is equivalent to 12 years of education.

D67
Why did you leave home? The respondent may have multiple reasons for leaving home --try to get them to narrow it down to the main reason.

D77
How many children have you had? Includes only natural children and adopted children. Make a note here (using F4) if they have had children, but one or more has died.

D87 - D85 Sometimes it's difficult to decide if an outing is a "date." If the respondents aren't sure, ask them to use their own definition. If they think of it as a date, then it's a date.

D115
If the respondent lives on a farm or in a rural area and seems to have trouble knowing what the "neighborhood" is, you might offer "your neighborhood or community.."

D116
Satisfaction from a job or career. If R doesn't feel this is applicable, code "7" NOT CURRENTLY EMPLOYED/RETIRED/UNEMPLOYED as the response.

D144 --stems sound awkward!!

D321, D322, D325
The answers to these questions may already be obvious by this point in the interview. But don't assume you know the answer, especially in regard to the death of a parent (some of the parent respondents have died since 1992 and we just found out!)

D328, D329
These questions refer to any parental remarriage, including ones that may have followed either parental divorce or the death of a parent.

D352, D360
Miles away --if R doesn't know how many miles away their parent lives, but knows they live in Albany, NY for example, make note of that. (use text key F4) and then key in 99997 to go on to the next question.

more here??D366-D377
These questions refer to stepfathers or stepmothers. For our purposes, if a noncustodial father remarries, his spouse is considered a stepparent, even if the respondent does not have much to do with her. The same goes for a noncustodial mother who remarries.

--what about no contact?

D389, D397, D417
Make sure the time frame here is clear to the respondent, it is DURING THE PAST YEAR, even though the previous questions were about the past month.

D442, D448
If R mentions more than 10, say, "We mean only your closest relatives/friends." If they decline to alter the number, enter the number they mentioned or 97 if it's greater than 97, and merely proceed with the questions.

D457, D459
The kind of work must be obtained in enough detail so that the occupation can be coded for status and various census categories. We are referring only to employment for a wage or living --full-time or part-time, and this does not include volunteer work experiences. Therefore, obtain all of the information about the job that is asked for. In some cases, the title is enough, such as elementary school teacher. But in others, it is not. For an engineer, it is necessary to obtain type (electrical), duties, (e.g. the individual may be a maintenance engineer who sweeps floors and does minor repairs, or the person may be a full time administrator), type of industry (whether it is a high tech firm or public utility may make a difference), and whether the individual is self-employed (the person may be a marginally employed consultant or work for a stable high prestige firm). We DO NO need to know the name of the company; in fact, we'd rather not see the name, but rather a good description of the size and type of company it is.

Divorce New Offspring Guide

READ BEFORE YOU BEGIN INTERVIEWING:
When you are ready to start, equip yourself with the following:

1) this guide
2) a copy of the letter sent to offspring respondents (should be attached)
3) cover sheets, respondent request form, pencil, etc.
4) FAMILIARITY -- be sure that you have practiced the interview. Run through it with parents divorced, neither remarried, one remarried, one parent dead; the respondent is living with parents, married, single, cohabiting, with children, etc.

Background:
We are interviewing about 275 more children of respondents in the Work and Family Life Study. These offspring were identified and information about their addresses was gained through your interviewing their parents during February until the present. Children who were in their parent's household in 1980 and who had reached the age of 19 in 1997 are going to be interviewed. If more than one child was age 19 or older, we randomly selected the appropriate child to be contacted (We do not always speak to the oldest child, youngest child, etc. And, we only included children who were living in the household in 1980). A letter explaining the nature of the study was sent to the new offspring in mailings on April 28 and May 28, so hopefully they will have received some advance information from us (if the respondent hasn't received a letter; refer to page 6 "PHONE INTRODUCTION FOR R'S WHO HAVE NOT RECEIVED THE LETTER" for a guide on how to explain the study to him/her).

The interviews with these "new" offspring of our main respondents will address many of the same questions that you have asked their parents. Some questions focus on the quality of parent-offspring relations, while others address the quality of the offspring's marriage or other interpersonal relationships (such as with a cohabitant or with children). If respondents are single, we are asking about the quality of their current relationship (if applicable) and life in general.

Confidentiality Concerns
IF YOU SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETED AN INTERVIEW WITH AN OFFSPRING'S PARENT, YOU CANNOT INTERVIEW THAT OFFSPRING!!!
To insure confidentiality of all of our respondents' answers, you may not interview an offspring respondent if you have completed an interview with his or her parent. The coversheet will have the id number of the interviewer who completed the interview with the parent. You have already established some rapport with the parent (and probably heard a lot of details about their family life), therefore we do not want you to compromise our promise of confidentiality by also talking with their child and accidently letting something the parent said slip out. Please look over the cover sheets you take very carefully. If your ID number is on a cover sheet, put it back in the pile.

Coversheet Information:

The new offspring coversheets are blue and are sorted into time zones similar to the last two surveys we've done; they should also look similar to the previous ones except for a few changes:

1) Names, addresses, and phone numbers = please be sure to verify the spelling of names and addresses, as well as correct names, addresses, and phone numbers (as always) or any changes. We received this information from you, the interviewers, when you typed in these offspring's names, addresses, and phone numbers during the parents' interview, and there will be some misspellings or mistakes that need to be corrected.

a) the zipcodes have -0 attached to them: this just represents the possibility of a zip code extension. If a respondent does not have a zip code extension, their zipcode will have -0 attached (e.g. 68506-0). When you are verifying the address and zipcode of the respondent, do not read -0 to the respondent, just read the numbers of the zipcode.

2) Be sure and note which interviewer completed an interview with the parent (see ID OF INTERVIEWER WHO INTERVIEWED PARENT) so that you do not interview an offspring of a parent you have talked to before.

3) The numbers 1-1=, 1-2=, 1-3=, etc., above the COMMENTS are codes to let the directors know what child the coversheet belongs to; you do not need to know this number or enter it anywhere in the survey --so please disregard.

4) COMMENTS: this space is for entering comments such as: best times to call; above address is parent's etc.

5) TRACKING INFORMATION - please be sure and date and initial any new information you receive during the tracking process; this includes new phone numbers, addresses and name corrections. Also note information about the respondent on the back of the coversheet if you receive it during your attempts to reach a respondent; e.g. is R deceased, divorced, separated, widowed?

Notes on Specific Questions and Situations:

N76 - If a marriage is in a state of permanent separation, it is considered no longer intact.

Some of the questions refer to the respondents' relationships 3 years ago. If the respondent has not been married or in the situation for 3 years, do not use the time reference. Ask "since you were married..." etc.

NNAM - Although we have the full name of the respondent, we would like to know the first name they usually go by or like to be called.

MARN - This is a key question --we are asking about the respondent's current marital status. It is important that you ask the full question, so that respondents who are separated are categorized as just that and not as currently married. While it is true that they are technically still married, there are different sets of questions for each marital status, and some of the married questions are not appropriate for separated respondents.
-->IMPORTANT: If you get farther into the interview, say, to the rest of the household questions, and find out this respondent is married but living alone (but not MARRIED, LIVING APART), you may want to probe to find out why --and if you find out s/he is separated or some other marital status other than the one s/he initially gave you, you'll want to tell the respondent you are having computer problems so that you can contact a supervisor, change the marital status, and proceed with the appropriate questions in the interview.

HOUSEHOLD MEMBERS QUESTIONS:
The purpose of these items is to obtain information of every resident in the household. Information on up to 10 people can be entered into the computer. If there are more than 10 people in the household, record information on additional people on the back of the coversheet.

RELATIONSHIP TO R:
It is important that we become aware of respondents who are cohabiting with a partner. Some respondents will volunteer this information when describing how the other resident is related to them (e.g. RE2N). In other cases, you will have to probe. If the respondent mentions living with an adult (18 or over) friend or nonrelative of the opposite sex, ask if this person is a "boyfriend/girlfriend" of the respondent and code as an "8". A few respondents may voluntarily mention that a same sex member of the household is a "partner/lover" which you code as an "8". However, do not probe for this information; simply code all references to same sex friends or non-relatives as 9 "OTHER/NONRELATIVE" if they don't volunteer any details.

AGES OF PEOPLE IN THE HOUSEHOLD:
Babies under the age of 1 are coded as 0.

MARITAL STATUS OF PEOPLE IN THE HOUSEHOLD:
Children under the age of 16 are not asked about their marital status.

EDUCATION OF PEOPLE IN THE HOUSEHOLD:
In computing years of school completed, do not count nursery school, preschool, or kindergarten years. Children who are under the age of 5 do not get asked how many years of education they have.
A GED is equivalent to 12 years of education.

N64-N69
The term “home” refers to living with a parent. Especially in cases of parental divorce, respondents can have two homes. A respondent who moves out of the custodial mother’s home to live with the father, for example, has never left home, as far as we are concerned. Therefore, questions that refer to “leaving home” mean moving into a household in which no parent resides

> N66 --Why did you leave home? The respondent may have multiple reasons for leaving home --try to get them to narrow it down to the main reason.

N70
How many children have you had? Includes only natural children and adopted children. Make a note here (using F4) if they have had children, but one or more has died.

N76-N77
These questions are still asked even if we know the respondent is divorced. Therefore, if you know this, simply state the questions in a confirmatory way: “So this marriage is no longer intact?” and, “”It ended in divorce, is that correct?”

N107-N112
Sometimes it's difficult to decide if an outing is a "date." If the respondents aren't sure, ask them to use their own definition. If they think of it as a date, then it's a date.

N135
Satisfaction with your neighborhood: If the respondent lives on a farm or in a rural area and seems to have trouble knowing what the "neighborhood" is, you might offer "your neighborhood or community.."

N136
Satisfaction from a job or career. If R doesn't feel this is applicable, code "7" NOT CURRENTLY EMPLOYED/RETIRED/UNEMPLOYED as the response.

N334-N346
For most children, the parental separation (when one parent moved out), rather than the legal divorce itself, is the important event. Therefore, these questions are worded to refer to the separation rather than the divorce. If respondents ask whether the question refers to when their parents divorced or separated, provide the latter (separation) interpretation.

N347, N349
The answers to these questions may already be obvious by this point in the interview. But don't assume you know the answer, especially in regard to the death of a parent.

N352, N356, N357, N362
These questions refer to any parental remarriage, including ones that may have followed either parental divorce or the death of a parent.

N405- N407
Questions about living at home as a teenager. If the respondent is 19 and still lives at home (with one or more parents), use the present tense for these questions (e.g. I feel comfortable living at home). Otherwise, use the past tense (e.g. I felt comfortable living at home).

N422, N431
Miles away --if R doesn't know how many miles away their parent lives, but knows they live in Albany, NY for example, make note of that. (use text key F4) and then key in 99997 to go on to the next question.

N391-N400; N433-N446
These questions refer to stepfathers or stepmothers. For our purposes, if a noncustodial father remarries, his spouse is considered a stepparent, even if the respondent does not have much to do with her. The same goes for a noncustodial mother who remarries. If R does not have contact with mother, father, stepmother, or stepfather and the questions seem inappropriate, you may use the REF code.

N452, N458, N466, N472, N480, N486
Make sure the time frame here is clear to the respondent, it is DURING THE PAST/PREVIOUS YEAR, even though the previous questions were about the past month.

N511, N517
If R mentions more than 10, say, "We mean only your closest relatives/friends." If they decline to alter the number, enter the number they mentioned or 97 if it's greater than 97, and merely proceed with the questions.

N525, N527
The kind of work must be obtained in enough detail so that the occupation can be coded for status and various census categories. We are referring only to employment for a wage or living --full-time or part-time, and this does not include volunteer work experiences. Therefore, obtain all of the information about the job that is asked for. In some cases, the title is enough, such as elementary school teacher. But in others, it is not. We DO NOT need to know the name of the company; in fact, we'd rather not see the name, but rather a good description of the size and type of company it is.

PHONE INTRODUCTION FOR RESPONDENTS WHO HAVE NOT RECEIVED THE LETTER

Reasons why the respondent has not received the letter explaining the study and why they were chosen to participate:

1) When the letter was sent and the respondent did not open it or it is still somewhere in the mail system.

2) The letter was sent and returned to sender (us) because we did not have the correct address for the respondent.

3) And, the last case will be that the parents of the respondents gave only their phone numbers and so we were unable to send them a letter.

In any case, if the respondent indicates that he or she has not received the letter, approach them in a manner such as the following:

Hello, I'm _____, a professional interviewer for the University of Nebraska Bureau of Sociological Research. Since 1980, we have been doing a national study on families and the various factors that affect family life. Your (step)mother/father, NAME OF INTERVIEWED PARENT, has taken part in this study and was interviewed by phone in 1980, 1983, 1988, 1992, and again this year. We are expanding the study this year to include randomly selected children of the people who have been helping us these many years.

The purpose of this study is to learn how growing up in different kinds of families affects the lives people have as adults. This is the only large scale study in the world in which parents were first interviewed and now, 17 years later their children will be interviewed to see how family matters influence the course of our lives.

Be assured that the answers you give will be held in strict confidence and that someone other than myself interviewed your (step)mother/father. We look forward to your participation in this important study.

------>If the Respondent still seems unsure, you may offer to send a copy of the letter. Be sure to get or verify the address of the respondent so it can be sent to an accurate address.

Dear Participant in the Work and Family Life Study:

Since 1980 we have interviewed you four times. You have been very generous with your time, and we appreciate your continued interest in the study. From time to time we like to write and tell you about some of our findings.

You will recall that we asked about your marriage and included questions about marital happiness, frequency of eating meals together and working on projects around the house, disagreements and the like. It turns out that the quality of people's marriages doesn't change much from year to year. In fact, people's feelings about their marriages are as stable as many personality characteristics. Marriages that have been in existence for only a few years are as stable as those that have gone on for decades.

Even in the face of long term declines in health, we find only a small number of marriages where people are less happy with their relationship. Marriages most likely to suffer are those where the decline in health has brought about a major change in financial circumstances, the well partner has had to pick up nearly all of the household chores, the couple has to curtail joint activities such as eating meals together or visiting with friends, or if the sickness causes the afflicted individual to change their general mood. In other words, most couples are able to adjust to declines in health so it does not greatly affect their marriage. There are of course several illnesses that do severely stress marriages, but many declines in health do not.

There has been a lot of talk about the sandwich generation, couples who have to care for an elderly parent as well a one of more children. People have thought that this combination of caring responsibilities would adversely affect the marriage of those who faced such responsibilities. Our research finds that is not the case. Even when elderly parents and teen children tax the resources of the couple, having two responsibilities is no more stressful than having one.

We hope you found these findings of interest. Other parts of the study are progressing and we will write from time to time to keep you informed.

If you have moved recently or are planning to move in the near future, we would appreciate a collect call telling us your new address. If your phone number has changed, we would appreciate hearing about that as well. Call us at 402/472/3672.

Dear Participant in the Work and Family Life Study:

We interviewed you in 1992 as a part of a study in which one of your parents was involved. You have been very generous with your time, and we appreciate your interest in the study. From time to time we like to write and tell you about some of our findings.

You will recall that we asked about your current circumstances and about your relations with your parents currently and while you were growing up. Twenty four percent of the young people we interviewed were living with one or two parents. The majority of those who moved away did so to attend school, move into their own place, or got married. Of those who moved out, 36% moved back home. The most common reason for moving back was that they could not afford to live on their own.

Of those living away from their parents the majority (69%) see their mother every day or two and 49% see their fathers that often. Contact with parents is highly related to how much support young people received while they were growing up and to the amount of control parents exercised over their children. The greater the amount of affection and help given by parents the greater the contact. Moderate amounts of control is also related to greater contact. Parents who had too many or too few rules, supervised too closely or not close enough, made too many or too few decisions for their child has less contact with their children than parents who were moderately controlling.

We hope you found these findings of interest. Other parts of the study are progressing and we will write from time to time to keep you informed.

If you have moved recently or are planning to move in the near future, we would appreciate a collect call telling us your new address. If you phone number has changed, we would appreciate hearing about that as well. Call us at 402/472/3672.

Dear Participant in the Work and Family Life Study:

Since 1980 we have interviewed you four times. You have been very generous with your time, and we appreciate your interest in the study. From time to time we like to write and tell you about some of our findings.

By now a number of people have reached retirement age. We are interested in the circumstances under which retirement increases and decreases marital happiness. We found that when men retire from a stressful or unsatisfactory job, people's marital happiness increases. On the other hand, when most of the husband's friends are from work, retirement lowers contact with friends and sometimes results in a slight decline in the quality of the individual's marriage. Those with friends outside work report no decline in contact with friends or in marital satisfaction. When men retire and women continue to work, we find that couples have to do a lot of adjusting. Some husbands are not used to doing household chores and aren't eager to take them up. At the same time, wives still in the work force expect their retired husbands to help out more with housework and shopping. In the near future, we plan to study wives who retire and the impact it has on family life.

We now have enough people in the study who have been in more than one marriage to look at how first and second marriages differ. Our study shows that each marriage is unique. The things couples do together, their disagreements, and their feelings about the relationship differ greatly from one marriage to the next. In many cases, we don't find that second marriages are any better or worse than first ones. We only find that they are different. We plan to continue to study these differences between first and second marriages.

We are going to ask you to be interviewed one more time in the next few months. We will then have 16 years of data on a large number of families. No other study to date has collected so much information on families over such a long period of time. Data from the study have been used by family researchers all over the world. In addition to the results published in scientific journals read by researchers, physicians, counselors, and others who work with families, summaries of many of our findings have appeared in newspapers and popular magazines. There is a lot of interest in families today, and the study to which you have contributed has added much information to people's knowledge about trends and changes in family life.

If you have moved recently or are planning to move in the near future, we would appreciate a collect call telling us your new address. If your phone number has changed, we would appreciate hearing about that as well. Call us COLLECT at (402)472-3672 or e-mail us at bosr@unlinfo.unl.edu.

Since 1980, your >>What Parent<<, Parent Name, has taken part in a national study of families and the various factors that affect family life. >>Gender<< was interviewed by telephone in 1980, 1983, 1988, 1992, and again this year. We are expanding the study this year to include randomly selected children of the people who have been helping us these many years. One of our professional interviewers (not the one who interviewed your >>What Parent<<) will be calling you in the near future.

The purpose of the study is to learn how growing up in different kinds of families affects the lives people have as adults. We will be asking you some of the same kinds of questions we asked. Be assured that the answers you give will be held in strict confidence. Your answers will only be seen by study staff.

The study which we are asking you to take part in is the only large scale study in the world in which parents were first interviewed and now, twelve years later, their children will be interviewed to see how childhood family experiences affect life as an adult. Over the years the results of the study have been and will continue to be, useful to physicians, counselors, teachers, business leaders, and others who need information on the way in which work, health, religion, and family matters influence the course of our lives. We look forward to your participation in this important study.

Dear >>First Name<< >>Last Name<< :

Enclosed is a copy of the questionnaire related to the study in which you were a participant in 1980, 1983, 1988 and again in 1992. We are sending this to you along with a self-addressed, stamped envelope to honor your request that you complete it in your own home rather than over the telephone.

The questionnaire was not designed to be self-administered, but we do not believe you should have any difficulty in filling it out. In most cases, just circle the number corresponding to your answer, or fill in the answer in the spaces provided. In some cases an answer to a question requires that you skip to another part of the questionnaire. These are normally clearly indicated but if you have any doubts, just answer all of the questions you believe are appropriate. While the printed version takes several pages, there are normally only 3 or 4 questions per page and many of these apply only to special situations that may not pertain to you. (For your information, DK means "Don't Know" and REF means "Refused"). If you have any questions about how to fill out any item, feel free to call us collect at 402/ 472-3672.

When you have completed the questionnaire, place it in the self-addressed, stamped envelope provided and mail it. We greatly appreciate your willingness to continue to participate in this important study and are looking forward to receiving your completed questionnaire soon. We want to assure you again that all your answers will be kept confidential. Your name will not be used in any way in reporting the findings of the study.

Sincerely,

David R. Johnson, Ph.D.

Dear >>First Name<< >>Last Name<< :

It has been brought to my attention that you have not returned the mail survey for the Work and Family Life study that was sent to you in April. We are grateful for the time you have given to this important study since 1980 and understand that situations may arise which make continued participation no longer a desired option for you. Because we are still interested in your continued participation, we would like to give you three options. Please understand that whether or not you choose one of these options is entirely up to you.

OPTION 1: We are willing to pay you $30 to allow us to interview you by telephone. If you would consider doing this, please sign the enclosed form and return it to us in the postage-paid envelope provided. We will process it through the university so we can get a check in your name ready. When we have the check (it should take 2 to 3 weeks) we will call you back to complete the interview. We will send the check directly to you after you complete the telephone interview with us. You should receive it in the mail within a week of the interview.

OR

OPTION 2: Return the completed mail survey that was sent to you in April.

OR

OPTION 3: We are enclosing a short one page questionnaire that we would like you to take a couple of minutes of your time to fill out and return to us in the postage-paid envelope provided.

Thank you again for your participation in the study over the last 17 years. The results of the study have been put to good use. As a result of this study, we know much more about changes in marriages and families since 1980. If you have any questions about the study, please feel free to write us at the above address or call us toll-free at 1-800-480-4549.

It has been brought to my attention that you do not wish to participate in the Work and Family Life study in which you have been a participant since we first interviewed you by the telephone in 1980. This note is to let you know that our telephone interviewers will not be contacting you again about completing the telephone interview. We are grateful for the time you have given to this important study and understand that situations may arise which make continued participation no longer a desired option for you. To help us close out your participation file in this project, we would like you to take a moment to fill out the enclosed one-page questionnaire and return it to us in the postage-paid envelope provided. This will be the last contact we will initiate with you on this study.

Thank you again for your participation in the study over the last 17 years. The results of the study have been put to good use. As a result of this study, we know much more about changes in marriages and families since 1980. If you have any questions about the study, please feel free to write us at the above address or call us toll-free at 1-800-480-4549.

801573 They just had a baby and I have been helping out a lot.
801637 Moderate.
801869 None is more accurate.

Item E166. How would you feel if (fill kid2) suggested returning home to live with you? Would you be happy about the idea, somewhat reluctant but willing to take them, or would you discourage them?

800122 Would depend on the circumstances.
800235 Depends on which child.
800238 Temporary basis - only if necessary.
800791 Depends on child, would discourage but would encourage the younger child.
800854 Depends on if they are in trouble - if in trouble I'm very happy to take them, otherwise not.
800932 She is married and I would try to encourage her to face life.
801373 It would depend on the child.
801508 With married ones would discourage, single would be reluctant.
801635 Would depend on the situation.
801873 Depend on which child, some I would be happy to have and others I would not.

After each of the following statements about life in general, indicate whether you strongly agree, agree, disagree, or strongly disagree with each statement. (Items E168-E180).

Item E168. As I grow older, things seem better than I thought they would be.

800036 'bout the same.
800941 Not better - worry about younger generation.
801009 Thinks about the same.
801094 Health wise disagree - otherwise agree.
801301 Depends, some are better and some are worse.

Item E169. I have gotten more of the breaks in life than most of the people I know.

800361 Breaks mean that you just got lucky. I think that this wording is bad. I feel that I have just planned well for our life.
800893 Most of the people that she knows have had as many breaks.
801009 Neither agree or disagree.
801276 I lost a son and still have one; now I'm disabled .

Item E170. This is the dreariest time of my life.

800467 Due to a health problem.

801821 Losing eyesight.

Item E171. These are the best years of my life.

800436 Main care giver for parents.
800891 Whole life has been good, not just now.
801094 Not for health years.
801117 Some place in the middle.
801243 Not the best years, but not bad.
801684 Do not see any highs or lows so I don't how to answer.
801758 Due to raising her grandchild.
801817 Yes or no.

Item E172. Most of the things I do are boring or monotonous.

800024 In the middle of agree and disagree.

Item E173. The things I do are as interesting to me as they ever were.

800016 Just had death in family.

800768 Chronic back pain.
801151 Due to current health problems.
801228 Because of husband's death.
801421 Somewhat agree.

Item E177. I've gotten pretty much what I expected out of life.

800893 Didn't expect anything. No plan for her life.
800937 Gotten then expected.
801094 Always thinking of health thing.
801276 I have but I've lost a lot too.
801507 Feel she got more than expected.
801679 I have gotten more than I expected.

Item E178. The lot of the average person is getting worse, not better.

800094 Just what are we talking about, a lot of issues involved.
800718 It's a generalization, not accurate.
801172 You get out of life just what you put into it.
801457 Not sure what you mean but I guess I disagree.
801596 It is what you make out of life.

Item E179. There is still plenty of time to do most of the things I want to do.

801094 Here again health thing - I'm on kidney machine.

Item E180. When I think about the things I really want to achieve in live, I'm worried I don't have enough years left to get them done.

800647 He said he has achieved everything he wanted to in life.
801009 Disagrees with really.
801117 Mostly in your mind.
801254 Live one day at a time.
801263 Is a six year survivor of breast cancer.

Item E181. When you compare yourself to others your age, do you feel very young for your age, young for your age, about the same as others, old for your age, or very old for your age?

800099 Some times I do feel older.
801254 I feel blessed to live 70 years.
801573 Had polio as a child so at this time of her life she is having some problems.

After each statement, indicate whether you strongly agree, agree, disagree, or strongly disagree. (Items E182-E187)

801367 Middle of the road.

Item E185. I certainly feel useless at times.
801049 Sometimes feels useless, but not strongly.
801117 In the middle.
801501 Sometimes.

Item E186. I feel that I'm a person of worth, at least on an equal plane with others.
801632 Sometimes.

Item E187. All in all, I am inclined to feel that I am a failure.
800339 Depends on the day.

After each statement, indicate the amount of satisfaction you get from each area of life: a great deal of satisfaction, quite a bit of satisfaction, some, a little bit, or no satisfaction. (Items E188 - E195)

Item E188. How much satisfaction do you get from your neighborhood?
801009 Has two houses one is 2 one is 3.

Item E189. How much satisfaction do you get from your job or career?
800091 Retired.
800109 Retired.
800541 Start new job tomorrow.

Item E191. How much satisfaction do you get from your friends?
800859 Not statements.

Item E192. How much satisfaction do you get from your hobbies or leisure activities?

800516 Do not have a lot of free time.
801254 No time for hobbies.
801824 What I do in my spare time but it does not qualify as a leisure act.

Item E193. How much satisfaction do you get from your marriage?

801868 A penetration question, he said.

Item E194. How much satisfaction do you get from your children?

800611 A mixed blessing.

Item E195. How much satisfaction do you get from the rest of your family?

800260 No other family.
800649 Don't have any other family.

Item E196. Taking all things together, how would you say you are these days? Would you say you are very happy, pretty happy, or not too happy?

800394 Just happy.
800990 Somewhere between 2 and 3.
801501 It depends on which level I'm on.
801596 I'm slap happy.
801632 Some times and some times not. I think it is an age thing.

Item E197. In general, would you say your religious beliefs influence your daily life very much, quite a bit, some, a little, or not at all?

800718 Don't like word religious beliefs.
801301 Do not practice organized religion.
801817 Can not even say what my religion is due to the war.

Item E198. During the past six months, how often did you attend religious services? Would you say weekly, once a month, less than monthly, or never?

800052 Twice a month.
800069 More than weekly.
800215 Daily mass.
800945 Twice a month so do not get to church every week.
801009 Not weekly but more than once a month.
801276 Depends on weather.
801361 About every other week.

Item E200. How often do you and your (fill sprn) attend church together? Would you say weekly, once a month, less than monthly, or never?

800063 Attend same church weekly but go to different services due to Sunday School, choir.
800104 Twice a month together.
800215 Daily.
800228 Wife works every Sunday.
800693 Attend seasonally due to job obligations the past two months; weekly prior to that it was once a month.
801009 In between weekly and once a month.
801254 Once a year on Easter, she said.
801276 More than once a month but not weekly.
801361 Every other week.

Item E201. In the past three years has your (fill sprn) become more religious in a way that affects your life together?

800512 He is just gone more, and now we are apart more and we do less together.
800626 Does not have an effect on our marriage, but I'm happy for her.
801363 More religious, but not in a way that is religious.
801488 No change.
801872 Only known her for 2 years.

Item E202. How often in the last few months did you engage in prayer? Would you say daily, weekly, monthly, less than monthly, or never?

801009 In between daily and weekly.

Item E203. How often do you listen to or watch religious broadcasts? Would you say daily, weekly, monthly, less than monthly, or never?

800512 Involved in Christian music daily.
801868 Wife has religious program on for me daily.

Item E204. How often do you read the Bible or other religious material? Would you say daily, weekly, monthly, less than monthly, or never?

800773 On all religion questions-she is right in between less than once a month to never.
800892 Not daily but more than once a week.

Item E205. How religious would you say you are compared to your (fill sprn)? Would you say you are much more religious, more religious, about the same, less religious, or much less religious?

800385 Raised in the Jewish faith and I feel that I am the best Christian around. My life has nothing to do with religion.
800512 Each thinks that the other is not a Christian.

After each of the following statements, indicate whether you strongly agree, agree, disagree, or strongly disagree with each statement. (For Items E206-E212)

Item E206. A woman's most important task in life should be taking care of her children.

800361 Vague wording, depends on the age of the child..
800399 Parent's most important task.
800464 Not appropriate for my age question, she said.
800504 Other than devotion to God.
800611 I found out along the way that if you don't take care of yourself first, you are not of any use to others.
800718 This wording sucks because it's dad's job too and not only thing in life.
801230 When they are young.
801243 Until they leave the home.
801259 Important part of life, but not her life.
801679 Though I do not feel that a woman should not work.
801945 When they 're little it's more important; when they're older it's not.

Item E207. A husband should earn a larger salary than his wife.

800441 Depends on the type of job.
800493 It should be equal.
800597 Does not matter.
800940 Don't really care, stupid question.
801300 Depends on the kind of job.

Item E208. It should not bother the husband if a wife's job sometimes requires her to be away from home overnight.

800361 The word bother is bad.
800399 Personally doesn't have a problem with it, but doesn't want his wife to do it.
801137 Do not feel that a wife should be away from home overnight.

Item E209. If his wife works fill-time, a husband should share equally in household chores such as cooking, cleaning, and washing.

800361 Husband takes care of things that I can not do so I think that what he does for me does save me money. So I don't feel he should have to do the housework too.
800687 All depends on the situation, it is not black and white.
801824 She should share in car repair.

Item E210. If jobs are scarce, a woman whose husband can support her ought not to have a job.

800122 Depends on wether or not the couple have children.
800194 Too many variables.
800361 Another vague question.
800940 Shouldn't even be a question.

800941 Up to woman.
801291 Depends on person.
801758 Up to individual circumstances.

Item E211. A working mother can establish just as good a relationship with her children as a mother who does not work.

800112 Matter of time.
800622 Rough, but can be done.
800746 Disagree for the first two years of child's life.
801160 If she is home when they come home from school it is ok, I guess. One parent should be home for the children.
801172 Sometimes.
801501 In principle, but in reality it does make it harder.
801607 Hard one.
801945 Depends on age of children.

Item E212. Even though a wife works outside the home, the husband should be the main breadwinner and the wife should have the responsibility for the home and children.

800150 Disagree with the way this is worded.
800493 Should be equal.
800746 Both man and woman have responsibility.
800945 Somewhat agree.
801254 A husband should share - and keep home clean and food ready. God intended to have women to be homemaker. First is God , then your husband and then her home and birthday's honored - and her responsibility to take care of the home.
801301 Feel that it is more of a partnership.

Item E213. Would you say your (fill sprn) is more traditional or less traditional than you with respect tot he roles of men and women?

801276 We do whatever, no tradition, she said.

After each of the following statements, indicate whether you strongly agree, agree, disagree, or strongly disagree with each statement. (For Items E214-E225)

Item E214. Couples are able to get divorced too easily today.

800464 This is not the problem - not the availability of - people should try not to.
800718 Stupid question.
801817 It is good to get a divorce but couples should try first to work things out.

Item E216. The personal happiness of an individual is more important than putting up with a bad marriage.

800024	Depends if children are involved.
800058	Do not think that people work hard enough at marriage.
800112	Have to qualify it.
800215	Should try to resolve differences.
800238	What degree.
800339	Difficult if children are involved.
800392	Depends on the circumstances.
800464	Don't like these questions, she said.
800482	Agree and disagree.
800622	Depends on individuals, agree and disagree.
800675	If abusive then it would be ok.
800718	R resents the wording of most of these questions, and this isn't representing the population of the U.S. Without qualifying my answer, I can't give you an accurate answer to this question.
800891	What constitutes BAD??? Poorly phrased question.
800892	I think that people give up too quickly and do not try to work it out. Marriage does take work.
800893	Depends upon how bad the marriage is.
800904	Maybe.
800941	You need to work at it if it's not a physical abuse.
800962	That is a loaded question. There are good marriages and bad marriages. Just because you might have problems you have to try to work things out.
800966	Safety is important, though.
801117	Gray lines.
801160	Learn to work it out.
801172	You have to give it a chance.
801254	Happiness is a frame of mind - some people enjoy being bad; unless a person is married to drunk or etc.
801254	This depends on all you do ,how pleasant they are because of a job they do.
801301	Slightly agree but sounds like someone is just too selfish.
801367	I think that I might agree.
801474	Unless there is physical abuse in the marriage.
801637	That is a hard one.
801758	Should try to work it out.
801820	Depends upon situation.

Item E217. If one spouse becomes mentally or physically disabled, the other person should stay in the marriage regardless of their own happiness.

800024	That is a tough one.
800094	This is an issue with me, I would do it , but I would not expect others to do as I do.

800099 It would depend on a lot of things.
800106 It's hard.
800392 Depends on the circumstances.
800436 It's a law in the state of Washington.
800464 A friend of mine has three children - husband had problem, lack of oxygen to brain, he's kind of goofy - bad for children.
800484 Too many variables.
800541 Hard one she said - to answer - depends on circumstances.
800585 Hard to answer.
800611 Did that in my first marriage.
800940 None of my business.
800966 If they were both committed that is important, but if the person is a vegetable, a person has to consider what they want to do.
801009 Related age.
801093 A lot of "depends " in this question.
801225 Sort of agree, depends on the state the partner is in.
801276 Is that person still functioning in that roll.
801457 Depend on circumstances.
801501 Depends on the circumstance, not enough information given.
801735 Judgement call.
801817 Depends on the relationship.
801930 Doesn't like these questions - there is a lot that goes into each question.

Item E218. Marriage is for life, even if the couple is unhappy.

800061 Stick together for better or worse, unless it's completely unbearable.
800091 Pending on the unhappiness- don't agree or disagree-you can help to change things, she said.
800133 If they are unhappy they should not have been together in the first place.
800464 What are your expectations???
800523 Somewhat in limbo, depends on the situation.
800596 Only if children are involved.
800611 It is an ideal but.....
800622 Double edge sword, he said.
800675 Needs to be worked at.
801009 Depends on age.
801133 In the middle, it would depend.
801254 If both unhappy then don't waste days of your life cause you don't have a lot of days.
801536 Difficult question.
801607 According to religious beliefs - agree.
801632 If you work hard enough at something it will work.
801654 Until the children are raised.

Item E219. In marriage where parents fight a lot, children are better off if their parents divorce or separate.

800024 Parents should not argue if children are involved.
800094 "Fight" has to be better defined.
800094 Separate for a period of time to cool off.
800112 Questions loaded, you'd have to qualify.
800194 Undecided.
800385 Gray areas here.
800464 I don't like these questions , she said.
800891 Poor phrasing of question.
800892 This is tough too. If it is a bad case they would probably be better off.
801094 They should work it out some way.
801117 I am in the middle on this issue.
801133 Depends, should get their act together.
801194 Depends on the situation.
801225 What kind of fighting.
801276 Hard for me to answer - situation like that in my family now.
801277 Kind of in the middle, agree and disagree.
801457 Depends on what you are calling fighting.
801572 Fighting should not be in front of the children.
801617 If there is abuse, then agrees.
801632 Lots of things that are involved.
801817 Fighting is not always bad!
801868 Hard to say.

Item E220. When making wills, it is reasonable for parents to reward children who have been most helpful to them.

800130 Sounds like one is playing favorites.
800464 Who came up with this stuff?
800834 If it means one more than the other then I disagree.
801093 It would make things easier, but not always right.
801254 I believe in being equal; they are your blood lines.

Item E221. It is reasonable to leave money to close friends instead of children if you like your friends better than your children.

800857 Depend on situation.
800915 Money should not be a reward for friendship/relationship.
801009 Don't know because of instead like to say 70/30.
801073 Depends on how much help you have received from each party.
801077 Children should have something.
801160 You can leave some with friends but children are primary.
801276 Depends on rolls friends play, some children do deal w/parents.

801501 Not enough information.
801596 Stupid question, she said.

Item E222. Parents have an obligation to try to save money to pass on to their children.
800024 Part of me agrees and part of me doesn't.
800057 Have no money to save.
800201 Up to a point.
800392 No opinion.
801151 Agrees if children are still minors.
801155 Feel that an education provided is like an inheritance.

Item E223. Unequal inheritances cause so much trouble that it is best, even if not really fair, to leave everything equally.
800091 I agree that should have equal amount but some things to one because value and child would have and take care of things more.
800611 This brings out the very worst in people so I think that you just do what you think is best.
801821 Outrageous performances by kids, NO.
801872 Agree.

800694 In some cases it is fair.
801073 Depends on the closeness of the relationship.
801077 Depends on the relationship.
801254 Whatever your heart wants to do.
801276 Hard to answer - depends on circumstances.

Item E225. Money ought to stay in the family rather than going to friends or charities.
800058 No sure answer to these questions.
800405 No, children first then doesn't matter.
800875 If enough to go around, then ok.
800962 Depends on how much money you have.
801073 If people are wealthy I think this is ok and give to family also.
801244 Should go to the family or charity rather than friends.
801367 Okay to leave some to charities.
801835 Would leave 90% to family and 10% charities.
801930 Depends on the circumstances.

(Ask only if female respondent/spouse working full-time, part-time, or not at work due to temporary illness, strike, or vacation. Note: these questions are about female R/wife's work. For Items E311, E313, E314, E316-E318.)

Item E311. During the average week, how many hours (fill spr8) work, counting overtime, travel to and from work, and work done for the job at home?
800412 She works at home.
800543 104 hrs.
801016 She works 32 hours for clinic and records and writes Christian music another 10 hours per week.
801517 On-call, some weeks may be 25.

Item E313. On the whole, how satisfied (fill spn4) with this job? Would you say very satisfied, moderately satisfied, a little dissatisfied, or very dissatisfied?
800596 Contract employee; go through a broker.

(The following questions deal with changes in (fill spr3) job since 1992. For Items E314, E316-E318.)

Item E314. (Fill spr4) unemployed for a month or longer?
800148 R was in school in ‘92 graduated in ‘93.
800170 She was on medical leave for about a month.
800670 Took a leave for 3 months.
800772 Had never worked until this job.
800772 Had no job until 2 years ago.
800791 She was not seeking a job during this time.

800821 Sporadic job, on and off.
801041 R did not go to work until 1995.
801273 Wasn't working previous to this job and not looking for work.

Item E316. How many months?
800160 Didn't work at all between 1992 and this job.
800862 Wasn't employed in 1992, so was for a long time.
800941 Worked only part time during her mother's illness.
801021 Just works whenever she wants to, teaches course at university, works sporadically.
801222 During this time was not looking for a job, chose to stay home with her family.
801317 She has home taught her children and has been unemployed for about 4.5 years.
801367 Substitute teach, so this is hard to tell.

Item E317. Did (fill spn1) have a reduction in pay?
800619 Being a farmer's wife, depends on crops and weather.
800766 Because of different job position taken.
800887 she was a housewife before, she picked this up recently.
801254 The man I worked for, son's and other relations came in they took my car, and gas away, so actually this was reduction in pay to me, cause I had it before.

Item E318. Did (fill spr0) go to work for a different employer?
800063 Has not left job, but has an additional employer.
800358 Wasn't working in '92 so.....
800597 The company has been sold three time - was IBM, then Loral, now LMFS - Lockheed Martin systems.

(Ask only if married female respondent/spouse working full-time, part-time, or not at work due to temporary illness, strike, or vacation. Note: these questions are about female R/wife's work. For Item E319.)

Now I want to read some reasons why people work. Please tell me how important each is as a reason why (fill spn9) worked during the time of your marriage. (For Items E319, E324-E326.)

Item E319. The first reason is because (fill spr3) earnings are necessary to make ends meet. Would you say this is very important, pretty important, not very important, not important at all?

801502 She said she changed branch of bank not employer.

(Note: these questions are about female R/wife's work. For Items E324-E327.)

Item E324. (Fill spn0) like staying home?

800385 Wife could not stay at home full time.

801254 I've worked ever since I was out of high school.

Item E327. If (fill spn1) had a choice, would (fill spr0) have a part-time job, a full-time job, or not work at all?

800122 Should be worded outside of the home.

801230 R and her husband are taking care of a blind female, that is night and day , she said it is like a full time job for them, blind person doesn't have anyone else.

801457 Don't have a choice.

801501 Would depend on the job, I'm torn between part time and staying at home. If it meant putting children in day care I would not do it.

801915 R has to work full time because husband has an illness.

Item E330. (For female respondents working and 55 or over.) Do you feel that stopping work for pay will be entirely good, mostly good, mostly bad, or entirely bad for you?

801254 Hard adjustment for me, but I do what I have to do and accept it; I've had cancer, 1978 and in 1991, breast cancer.

801515 Don't work for pay, doing it for son.

Item E334. (Female retired respondent.) Have the changes brought about by your (retirement/stopping work) been entirely good, mostly good, mostly bad, or entirely bad?

801276 She became disabled, had to stop working for pay - financially bad.

After the following statements about retirement, indicate whether you strongly agree, agree, disagree, or strongly disagree. (For Items E336 & E337.)

Item E336. Retirement is not something people should look forward to.

800201 Should do what you have to do.

Item E337. Not having to work gives a person time to do important things that they have put off.

801276 If I was healthy I'd agree.

Item E339. (For unmarrieds.) We would like to know about your present job. Last week were you working full-time, part-time, going to school, keeping house, or what?

1997 - OFFSPRING (from 1992) INTERVIEW
LISTED RESPONSES TO OPEN ENDED QUESTIONS

I am now going to read some statements about men's and women's roles. I would like you to tell me whether you strongly agree, agree, disagree, or strongly disagree? (For Items D102-D114.)

Item D102. A woman's most important task in life should be taking care of her children.

800729 Woman is most important.
801017 I don't feel that it should be shouldered by the wife alone.
801066 In the middle.
801236 Depends on the situation.
801239 Also man's most important task.

Item D106. If jobs are scarce, a woman whose husband can support her ought Not to have a job.

800888 I don't feel that I should have to stay home.
801236 Depends on her needs.

Item D107. A working mother can establish just as good a relationship with her children as a mother who does not work.

801021 Very difficult to do so.
801350 Depends on the situation.

Item D108. Even though a wife works outside the home, the husband should be the main breadwinner and the wife should have the responsibility for the home and children.

800810 Some one should be at home taking care of the children.
801782 Should be shared responsibility.

Item D111. The personal happiness of an individual is more important than putting up with a bad marriage.

800150 Not enough info.
800555 In the middle, can't agree or disagree.
800687 Happiness is for both parties, not just one of them.
800765 People don't work on marriage enough.
801066 Middle.
801281 That is a hard one to answer; when people are unhappy they just give up and they do not try hard enough on a day to day basis.
801723 That is a tough one to answer; depends on how bad the marriage is; they need to work at it.
801884 Just depends on how bad the marriage is.
802014 If it's an abusive situation.

Item D112. If one spouse becomes mentally or physically disabled, the other person should stay in the marriage regardless of their own happiness.

800821 This is a hard question.
800891 Would depend on the attitude of the person toward the spouse.
801236 Situational.
801437 You should be happy also; you need to take care of yourself.
801462 If in love with partner, it shouldn't matter.
801733 Depends on the situation.
801941 If physically sick, she would stay with them; if mentally sick , would not stay.

Item D113. Marriage is for life, even if the couple is unhappy.

800065 That is a hard one.
800274 Unless it is an abusive situation or other legal reasons.
800275 Not if it is abusive.
800635 You have to work at a marriage, it's hard.
800903 Unhappy is a vague term, should work on it as hard as you can to keep the marriage together.

Item D114. In a marriage where parents fight a lit, children are better off if their parents divorce or separate.

800008 Depends on the type of fighting that is going on.
801017 If it works things out, maybe it is. Not good for the children.
801864 Verbal battle. Parents should work things out.

I'm going to mention a number of areas of life. For each one I would like you to tell me about the amount of satisfaction you get from each one. Tell me whether you get a great deal of satisfaction, quite a bit of satisfaction, some, a little bit, or no satisfaction. (For Items D118-D123.)

Item D118. How much satisfaction do you get from your friends?

801733 Living in England and has not had a chance to form any friendships.

Item D120. How much satisfaction do you get from your marriage?

801066 Every once in a while.

Item D134. How often in the last year have you found yourself wondering if anything is worthwhile anymore? Would you say often, sometimes, or never?

800875 In between, occasionally.
801066 Every once in a while, probably never.

Item D135. Within the last year, would you say that most of the time you were in very good spirits, good spirits, low spirits, or very low spirits?

800514 Between good and low.

I am going to read several statements. After each statement, I would like you to tell me if you strongly agree, agree, disagree, or strongly disagree. (For Items D138-D141.)

Item D138. On the whole, I am satisfied with myself.

800687 Vacillating.
800985 Far as family, but not career.
801066 Not completely, to agree would mean that I am perfect and I'm not that yet.

Item D139. I certainly feel useless at times.

801066 Goes in cycles.

801733 At this time, because I can not work at this time.

Item D144. Now I am going to read some statements about trusting others. For each statement, I'd like you to tell me how often you feel this way: a lot, quite a bit, a little, hardly at all, or never. I find it difficult to trust others completely.

800687 Depends on the person.

Item D148. I am going to mentions some things couples sometimes do together. For each one, I would like you to tell me if you and your (fill sps1) almost always, usually, occasionally, or never do this together. How often do you eat your main meal together?

800275 Husband travels half of the year; "always " when he is home.

Item D154. (Previous questions asks: In every family there are a lot of routine tasks that have to be done–cleaning the house, doing the laundry, cleaning up after meals, cooking dinners, etc. How much of this kind of work usually is done by you–all of it, most of it, about half of it, less than half of it, or none of it?) Do you think this is fair or do you think you do more than your share?

800109 Not quite fair.

800111 Don't do my share.

800315 Feel do less than share.

800635 I don' t do enough.
