Clement, Chris -

The CRE team has their own secure data site (sounds like a FTP with username / password). They are posting docs there and C, CS and GS have access.

So I think we are all set!

We will have something posted shortly. It will contain a fair amount of info on the entire 41 odd billion global cre balance sheet. It does not have cash flows though. We do not have a tape that can provide that info globally. We have already posted info with coupons, maturities etc for US assets, we don't have it for the regions.

Kevin -

Apologies but trying hard to get an answer here. CS, GS and Citi are asking for access to CRE files. They currently have access to our residential real estate files. Can we do this? Clement needs to know.

Thanks,
Kelsey
