Chris,

Is there any way you and Ari could push your Irvine trip back 2 weeks or do you need to get out there sooner? Feb 1-2 doesn't work well for Max, he has baby conflicts. If you are flexible, Max and I could come to NY the week of the 12th and you guys to Irvine the week of the 19th? That might make more sense too so that Max and I have a chance to go through things in detail with JJ and Dennis before we meet. We can still work it as planned, I might just have to come by myself so if you are flexible that would be great. Also, the week of the 19th we will be scrubbing a new land report so that might be a good time to be out there - and I may even go back with you if so.

Ok, sorry for the long email. Thanks
Lori
